FERRY DRIFTS DOWN NIAGARA BUT IS SAVED

Orleans, With Passengers and Autos, Makes Way Into New York Canal

Crash With Bridge Caused By Ice

Canadian Press
Fort Erie, Ont., Jan. 22.—The ferry Orleans plying between Fort Erie and Buffalo tore off part of her superstructure when an ice jam carried the vessel against the International Railway Bridge here today, but was able to gain the safety of the New York state barge canal, two miles downstream.

The ferry, a double-decked craft, carried passengers and automobiles. Heavy iceflows drifting down from Lake Erie toward the falls seized the vessel as it crossed the Niagara River. The damaged vessel drifted free from the bridge after the collision and moved downstream, still in the grip of the ice.

The engines were undamaged and the ferry worked clear of the ice and proceeded under her own power to the entrance of the barge canal.

THEIR MAJESTIES DRIVE THROUGH STREETS OF VICTORIA

This interesting picture was taken by a member of The Times engraving department on October 1, 1901, on the occasion of the visit of the late King George V and Mary, Queen Mother, to this city. They landed at the outer docks from R.M.S. Empress of India and entered a hack and drove to the Parliament Buildings, where they were lodged as official guests. King George, who at that time was the Duke of Cornwall and York, is shown in the rear seat. His royal consort is holding a parasol, shading herself from the bright October sun. A second picture of this historic visit is published on Page 18.

New Co-operation Across Atlantic Is Predicted As Edward VIII Proclaimed

Age-old Pageantry Witnessed in London This Morning as People Informed by Heralds Son of Late George V Has Ascended Throne; Salute Fired in St. James's Park

King Has Many Friends in U.S.

Associated Press
London, Jan. 22.—Diplomatic sources said today they expected King Edward VIII to encourage closer collaboration between Great Britain and the United States in world affairs.

The monarch was expected in these quarters to make some public manifestation of a new era of friendship with the United States after he had adjusted himself to his new tasks.

King Edward counts among his intimate friends a wide circle of United States citizens in all stations of life. The most recent evidence of his cordial feelings toward Americans was given at the Guildhall reception last week in honor of the delegations to the International Naval Conference.

Norman H. Davis, chief United States delegate and President Roosevelt's "ambassador-at-large," was standing among other foreigners at the reception when the new King, then the Prince of Wales, glimpsed him some distance away.

The Prince strode across the hall, grasped Mr. Davis warmly by the hand and said: "I am certainly glad to see you back in London again, Mr. Davis."

It was in South America that Edward first said definitely that he was "going to be king, bachelor king."

This was during his tour of South America in 1931 with his brother, the Duke of Kent.

Speaking privately to a group of friends one night in one of the cities where he spent some time, Edward then said: "I'll become king, though I frankly enjoy life just as I am."

KING EDWARD GOES BY TRAIN

Abandons London-Sandringham Plane Flight as Snow Falls

Canadian Press
Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 22.—Edward VIII came back to Sandringham this evening from the proclamation ceremonies in London.

He and the accompanying royal party arrived at Sandringham House, after a railroad journey, at 5.35 p.m., to be greeted by 500 villagers who had stood at the gates more than an hour in a biting cold wind.

The Queen Mother welcomed the new King to the house.

Every member of the royal family, with the exception of the Duke of York's children, was assembled here to-night with King Edward's arrival.

ABANDONED PLANE FLIGHT
London, Jan. 22.—King Edward VIII, after the proclamation ceremonies here today, planned to fly to Sandringham, but an overcast sky and the threat of snow, already swirling in the Midlands, caused him to cancel his plans.

He left for Sandringham by train at 2.40 p.m., accompanied by his younger brothers, the Duke of York and the Duke of Gloucester, and by their wives.

MINISTERS TAKE OATH

B.C. Government Swears Allegiance to King Edward; Royal Salute Given

Events marking the accession of King Edward VIII to the throne and mourning for King George V moved forward in official circles here today.

Before Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald, official administrator of the province in the absence of Lieutenant-Governor, members of the British Columbia government at noon took the oath of allegiance to King Edward VIII.

The government formally declared next Tuesday, the day of King George's funeral, a public holiday, announcing at the same time that the usual weekly half-holiday rule would be suspended.

At noon today a salute of twenty-one guns to King Edward VIII rolled out from the battery at Work Point Barracks.

Fanfare Of Trumpets Heard

Canadian Press and Associated Press
London, Jan. 22.—A shrill fanfare of trumpets, climaxing a colorful age-old pageant with modern touches, formally proclaimed Great Britain's new flying monarch today as King Edward VIII.

Before a great crowd outside historic St. James's Palace, the King of Arms, Sir Gerald Woods Wollaston, stepped to the balcony over the Privy Court.

In a firm voice he proclaimed the forty-one-year-old Edward King, Emperor and Defender of the Faith.

Blasts from silver trumpets rang out as Sir Gerald, a member of the Herald's College, pronounced the resounding words:

"God save the King!"

The throng stood silent and a battery in St. James's Park crashed out with the first of its salute of forty-one guns—one for each year of King Edward's life.

The new ruler was seen to appear momentarily at a tall window adjoining the crimson-hung balcony. Other wise he took no part in the traditional ceremony.

The proclamation also was read at Charing Cross, Temple Bar and the Royal Exchange.

Immediately after the St. James's Palace ceremony, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin proceeded to Buckingham Palace, where he was received by the new King.

Former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Lord President of the Council, presided at a cabinet meeting at No. 10 Downing Street, this morning.

New York, Jan. 22.—A Columbia University dentist professor has given to the world without charge his formula for a pain killer for teeth—the result of two years' research.

The new treatment, Dr. Leroy L. Hartman yesterday evening told the New York First and Second District Dental Societies, will permit dental drilling into teeth and the filling of the cavities without pain.

Three simple materials make up the new desensitizer—two parts by weight of ether, one part ethyl alcohol and one and one-fourth parts thymol.

The ether and alcohol dissolve the lipoids, fatty substances which

France, Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia Will Aid If Italy Attacks Any of Them

Associated Press

Geneva, Jan. 22.—The League of Nations announced to-night the conclusion of a mutual assistance pact between Great Britain, France, Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia, to operate if Italy attacks any one of them.

Shortly before the League Committee of Eighteen had voted to create a special committee to decide on the practicability of oil sanctions against Italy.

An Italian spokesman said Italy planned to protest to the League against the Mediterranean mutual assistance scheme, put through at Britain's initiative.

The League announcement was in the form of a memorandum from Great Britain officially declaring the mutual assistance arrangement had been concluded.

SAYS ARMIES UNDEFEATED

Selassie's Son-in-law States Italian Reports Absolutely Untrue

By ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Addis Ababa, Jan. 22.—Ras Desta Denta, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, and Ethiopian commander-in-chief on the southern front, assured his government today his armies were still undefeated.

"It is absolutely untrue that I have been defeated," Ras Desta telegraphed in response to Italian reports that the Fascist southern army had crushed his forces about Dolo last week, inflicting thousands of deaths and advancing far into Ethiopia.

"We have had many small engagements with the Italians, some ending to our advantage, some to the advantage of the enemy," the Ethiopian commander reported.

AIR BASE FOUND
Unusually informed Addis Ababa sources said the Ethiopians had discovered an Italian air base in the heart of the Danakil desert, midway between Asseb, Eritrea, and Dessale, field headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie behind the northern front.

CAR LICENSE REVENUE UP

Over $5,700 More Received During December, 1935, Than December, 1934

The increase in the number of motor licenses issued last year in British Columbia in comparison with 1934, as indicated in monthly reports issued by the Motor Record Office at the Parliament Buildings, is continued in the statement for December, released today.

During last December there were 344 more licenses issued for passenger and commercial machines than in the same month of 1934. The increase in revenue was $5,775.

These figures bring the total increase for the year to $5,775. This, however, is only a nine months' total as the license year does not end until March.

There were 801 passenger licenses issued in December, as against 479 in December, 1934. The commercial vehicle registrations totaled 189 and in December two years ago they were 164.

MANY NEW CARS
One encouraging sign is the marked increase in new registrations of passenger vehicles, which would indicate a steady business in new cars. In December last year licenses were issued for 534 new machines while for the same period in 1934 there were only 216. This fact accounts largely for the jump in revenue.

For new registrations in December, 1935, $8,158 was collected, while this amount in 1934 was $3,300.

New registrations for passenger cars from March to December totaled 7,145, as compared with 5,334 for the same period in 1934.

She intends to seek a place on the American stage.

NEW POLICE FORCE FOR ALBERTA IF FARMERS HAVE WAY

Convention in Edmonton Asks R.C.M.P. Cease Patrolling and Provincial Police Be Restored

By GEORGE FINLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Edmonton, Jan. 22.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police who have handled the policing of Alberta since 1932 would be replaced by a provincial force if the decision of the United Farmers of Alberta is given approval by the government of this province.

At today's session of the annual convention, the U.F.A. in an almost unanimous vote urged the agreement with the Dominion Government for the R.C.M.P. to police Alberta be terminated "as speedily as possible."

MANY PASS KING'S BIER

Country Folk Visit Sandringham Church Where Body of George V Lies

Associated Press
Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 22.—Countryfolk and villagers who knew King George V as neighbor, employer and friend filed slowly through Sandringham's little square-towered parish church today, paying their last respects to their late sovereign.

Queen Mother Mary expressly ordered that the church, where His Majesty worshipped every Sunday while at Sandringham House, should be opened to the public. Previously it had been planned to admit only Sandringham village residents.

Families came this morning from as far away as Cambridge, through which the late King's funeral train will pass to-morrow for London. They walked solemnly into the village church, a half mile from Sandringham House, and past the simple oaken coffin.

Throughout the night, gamekeepers and foresters of the Sandringham estate, near the bleak coast 100 miles northeast of London, kept vigil beside the body.

CROSS OF FLOWERS
The Queen Mother's memorial was a large cross in which were worked orchids.

The widowed Queen walked twice through the rain and sleet yesterday evening from the royal residence to the village church, to be again at the side of her late husband.

LAVAL QUILTS AS FRENCH PREMIER

When Radical Socialists Withdraw He and Ministers Forced to Abandon Office; F. Bouisson Declines to Form New Cabinet

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, Jan. 22.—Premier Pierre Laval and his ministers resigned today.

Later in the evening Fernand Bouisson, president of the Chamber of Deputies, revealed he had declined to form a new cabinet to replace the Laval government.

President Lebrun offered the premiership to him after Pierre Laval had refused to attempt reconstitution of the cabinet, it was learned.

Withdrawal en bloc of the Radical Socialist ministers from the cabinet resulted in M. Laval's abandoning his office, which he had held since June 7, 1935.

In 1935 he came into power after the Radical Socialists, the most powerful bloc in the Chamber, had refused to back the then Premier Pierre Etienne Flandin.

The resignations were submitted to President Albert Lebrun at a cabinet council held in the Elysee Palace

TO BROADCAST KING'S FUNERAL

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission announced today it would broadcast over its national network next Tuesday the funeral services for the late King George.

The services will be broadcast by short wave from the British Broadcasting Corporation's Daventry Station, picked up by the commission's short-wave receiving station here and rebroadcast over the network.

Officials were unable at the moment to give time of the broadcast.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Legislation for immediate payment of the bonus was sent to President Roosevelt by Congress today, backed by majorities ample for over-riding a presidential veto.

Premier Reticent About Loan Council Scheme; B.C. Will Need Legislation; Big Maturity Due Next Month

British Columbia's attitude on the federal loan council scheme, and the control of provincial borrowings which it implies if the province accepts, remain unclarified today when Premier Pattullo returned from attending the committee on finances of the Ottawa conference.

The Premier made it quite plain that he did not wish to comment upon the plan any further than the official announcements made at Ottawa.

In the course of conversation, however, he said that complementary legislation by the province would be necessary to round out the new financial scheme if British Columbia accepted, and also that British Columbia had a $5,000,000 due next month.

JANUARY 28 IS DAY OF MOURNING

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—Tuesday, January 28, date of the funeral, will be proclaimed a public holiday. "To be observed as a day of general mourning by all persons throughout the Dominion of Canada on the occasion of the obsequies of His late Majesty, King George the Fifth."

Church services in Canada on that day will be arranged by the various denominations, there being no state church in Canada.

The Governor-General will attend a service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and he will be attended by a ceremonial escort.

Apprentice Wage Scales Are Fixed

First State Controlled Apprenticeship Scheme in British Columbia Now Operating; Six Occupations Included With More to Come in Later

British Columbia's first state-controlled system of apprenticeships is now in full operation, Adam Bell, Deputy Minister of Labor, announced today as he made public the details of wage scales and contract terms drafted for six different occupations within the scope of the scheme.

Between thirty and forty agreements under the Apprenticeship Act, which was passed last year, are either in effect or awaiting approval, the minister said.

The contracts cover carpentry and joinery, painting and decorating, plastering, sheet-metal working, plumbing and steam-fitting and electrical work. All apprentices engaging in these trades now must be signed up under regulation contracts, Mr. Bell said.

For the purposes of fixing wages, which are designated as a certain percentage of a journeyman's wage in

CLAIMS 200 MILES
ON GALLON OF GAS

C. N. Pogue, Winnipeg Inventor, Says New Carburetor Feeds Fumes to Car Engine Instead of Raw Gas

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Jan. 22.—Invention of a carburetor which enables motor cars to travel more than 200 miles on an imperial gallon of gasoline is claimed by Charles Neilson Pogue, thirty-eight-year-old Winnipeg inventor.

Two Winnipeg automobile company officials, T. V. Green and W. S. Kieley, after a test run in an eight-cylinder passenger car equipped with the device, said they had run slightly more than twenty-five miles before the pint jar of gasoline was exhausted, and that the car had functioned smoothly at all times. The run was made December 19.

After sixteen years of experimentation Mr. Pogue announced to-day his invention was based on a new principle, feeding gas fumes instead of raw gasoline into the intake manifold, thereby increasing the power and eliminating 75 per cent of the carbon. It had been patented in Canada, Great Britain, the United States and other countries.

ON TOP OF MOTOR
A large tank-like affair, the carburetor fits snugly under the hood atop the engine of an ordinary car. Gasoline enters one chamber and is vaporized by motor heat, then the vapor fumes, through a series of coiled tubes, enter a mixing chamber where they impact thickly enough to feed the engine whatever power is needed.

Since 1926 Mr. Pogue has been associated with W. J. Holmes, a hockey promoter and rink owner, who has for many years been a student of combustion engines. Mr. Holmes said to-day research work was being continued as he and Mr. Pogue believed even greater mileage could be achieved.

SAYS ARMIES

SUNAN MONASTERY, Tibet, where activities had been a mystery since an unsuccessful Italian attempt to invade the Danakil area in November, was said to have directed movement of the hangars piecemeal to a lonely desert station, hoping to bring the planes within striking distance of Addis Ababa.

Rome, Jan. 22 (Associated Press).—Premier Mussolini was cheered to-day by a report from the leader of his armies in east Africa, Marshal Pietro Badoglio, that the strategically important city of Nechelli had been captured by Italian cavalry.

Nechelli is the capital of Galla Borana, 210 miles from Dolo in southern Ethiopia.

Il Duce immediately cabled congratulations to Gen. Rodolfo Graziani.

Marshal Badoglio's communique read: "On January 20 groups of Genset dragoons and Aosta lancers, in a brilliant and rapid action overcoming hard enemy resistance, occupied Nechelli."

"The chiefs and notables of Galla Borana quickly surrendered, expressing their satisfaction for the liberation of the country and offering cooperation in the forthcoming operations against the Addis Ababa government."

"Also, around the Webbi (river) Genset, chiefs and notables of the Galla Arusi tribes have presented themselves to our military authorities."

"Prisoners continued to come to our lines."

"Large quantities of arms and ammunition, among which dum-dum bullets are included, are being captured."

Addis Ababa, Jan. 22.—Ras Hailu, former ruler of Galla province and reported outside Ethiopia to have been poisoned by Emperor Haile Selassie, is still alive.

The Associated Press correspondent, who knew the former leader of Galla during the emperor's coronation in 1930, was permitted to talk to the once powerful prince.

Ras Hailu recently was brought to Addis Ababa from an island in Lake Zway and now is living comfortably in the villa of the emperor.

Except for rheumatism, he appears to be in good health.

toric government headquarters, in the absence of Mr. Baldwin.

The new king traveled by train to Sandringham during the afternoon. He abandoned a plan to fly.

OBEDIENCE PLEDGED
In the proclamation proceedings in London the "faith and constant obedience" of all his subjects were pledged to the new sovereign, confirming his succession to the throne of his late father, King George V.

The words of the centuries-old proclamation were carried through-out the nation and the empire, to the new King's 600,000,000 subjects throughout a quarter of the world.

Wireless, the modern conqueror of space, was used for the first time in such a British royal ceremony.

The Royal Standard, which had not flown over Buckingham Palace since King George and Queen Mary left for Sandringham before Christmas, then was run up over the palace, a quarter of a mile down the Mall. The band struck up the National Anthem.

The Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, and the Garter King of Arms remained within St. James's Palace in attendance on King Edward, who later returned to Sandringham and joined the bereaved Queen Mother Mary.

AT CHARIOT CROSS
The remainder of the official proclamation party, in five horse-drawn carriages accompanied by a contingent of Life Guards, drove off through Trafalgar Square in a stately procession to Charing Cross.

There the proclamation was read a second time by the Windsor Herald, Alfred Butts.

AT TEMPLE BAR
Down the Strand the procession then moved to Temple Bar, ancient boundary of the capital city, where a silken cord across the street marked the border of London at the head of Fleet Street.

The procession sought and gained admission to the city, in accordance with the "ancient usages and customs of the city of London." The proclamation was read there for the third time.

"Who comes there?" called the advance guard of the Lord Mayor of London. Silver trumpets sounded to meet the glittering cavalcade of heralds.

"The officer of arms, who demands entrance to the city to proclaim the King," replied the pursuivants for the heralds.

CORD DROPPED
The silken cord barrier dropped and the pursuivants advanced to meet the Lord Mayor, crying, "The King is dead! Long live the King!"

The Lord Mayor joined the procession up Ludgate Hill, around St. Paul's Cathedral, to the steps of the Royal Exchange, in the heart of London's business district.

The London ceremony was completed at that point with a fourth reading of the proclamation.

OFFICIAL DECLARATION
The text of the proclamation follows: "Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to call to his mercy our late sovereign and late King George V. of blessed and glorious memory, by whose decease the imperial crown of the United Kingdom solely and rightfully has come to the high and mighty Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David: "We, therefore, the lords spiritual and temporal of this realm, being here assembled with these of his late Majesty's Privy Council, with the members and other principal gentlemen of quality, with the lord mayor, aldermen and citizens of London do hereby declare that the said Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David is now, by the death of our late sovereign, of happy memory, become our only lawful rightful liege lord, Edward the Eighth, by the grace of God, King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the British Dominions beyond the seas, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India;

"To whom we do acknowledge all faith and constant obedience with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom kings and queens do reign, to bless the Royal Prince Edward VIII with long and happy years to reign over us."

FLAGS RAISED
London's millions put aside for a day their mourning for the dead King George to witness the centuries-old ceremonies by which the capital city is told a new monarch reigns.

Half-masted flags were raised full staff in honor of the new sovereign. A glittering cavalcade formed to carry out rites dating back to the Norman Conquest.

Black-cloth crowds milled about the four traditional points—St. James's Palace, Charing Cross, Temple Bar and the Royal Exchange—from which the succession of the new sovereign was being proclaimed.

Throughout the vast empire and the United Kingdom, similar proclamations were made.

AT SANDRINGHAM
As King Edward turned back to join the Queen Mother at Sandringham, the body of King George lay in the little village church, there in Norfolk where he frequently worshipped with his family. It rested in a plain oak coffin simply inscribed: "George Frederick Ernest Albert Windsor, 1865-1936."

LYING IN STATE
Only a mile from the pomp and pageantry of the succession proclamations, under the ancient rafters of Westminster Hall, workmen prepared sadly for the return to-morrow of the body of King George to lie in state at the place where seven months ago he received the Jubilee congratulations of Parliament.

"Hence the body will be removed to Windsor Castle, west of London, for a funeral service next Tuesday in St. George's Chapel and burial with others of the long line of kings at Windsor."

N.E.'S TAKE OATH
Parliament, which started yesterday evening giving pledges of fealty from the individual members to the new monarch, met again to-day and continued the swearing of the oath of allegiance.

This ceremony will take several days for completion.

It started after the King had taken the oath of succession amid rites of the Middle Ages in an assembly of his Privy Council at St. James's Palace.

Protest was made of what was declared to be "federal control of our police force." The resolution declared it had been demonstrated during the "march-to-Ottawa" of relief camp strikers last year that the federal and not the provincial authorities controlled the R.C.M.P.

"We are very proud of the record of the R.C.M.P. in Alberta at the present time," said H. K. Spencer, former member of Parliament for Battle River. "Most of the men in the R.C.M.P. were members of the old provincial force."

"The objection is," he added, "that the police to be responsible to this province."

The resolution, sponsored by the United Farm Women of Alberta, brought debate from both men and women delegates.

CALLED MILITARY
Mrs. W. C. Dowdell of Millet declared the "R.C.M.P. is a military force."

"It could be moved into Alberta by the federal authorities, or sent to New Brunswick to do the 'dirty work' there," she said.

She protested vigorously against the maintenance of the force in Alberta.

Donald McLeod, former member of the Legislature for Stony Plain, doubled the bringing of the R.C.M.P. into Alberta had produced the forecast saving of $200,000 annually.

Other delegates declared Alberta required a police force "to serve the province" without "government or political influence."

The R.C.M.P. contract with the Dominion Government was renewed for a five-year period a few months ago by the new social credit government, it was shown during the debate.

The fluid, Dr. Hartman explained, is applied to the tooth with bits of cotton, crystallized within a minute or two and the tooth is ready for pain-free drilling.

He wants no money for the formula, Dr. Hartman asserted, and will not patent it unless forced to do so by desperate exploitation.

Persons ought not to try to use the mixture for toothache at home, he warned, as there is danger of severe burn unless it is properly administered.

At the "Buckingham Navy" barracks the ceremony of hoisting the colors "close-up" to honor the accession was carried out. Commander O. C. Jones, officer-in-charge of the station, read to the officers and men the "King's Message to the Navy."

Flags fly at the masthead until sundown to-day. For the following week, until next Wednesday morning, they will be flown at half mast.

Mourning orders were issued for naval, military and militia units.

Lieut.-Colonel J. R. Kingham, O.C. 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment, said mourning for that unit would be black crepe, three and one-quarter inches wide, worn on the left arm above the elbow by all officers.

Special church services are being arranged.

CATHEDRAL SERVICE
The Bishop of Columbia announced a diocesan memorial service for King George will be held in Christ Church Cathedral next Tuesday morning at 11.15 o'clock for all Anglican congregations of Greater Victoria.

The bishops and clergy will be present in their robes, and invitations will be sent to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the provincial cabinet, the mayor and City Council, army and navy representatives and the judiciary.

Administering of the new oath to members of the government took place in the executive council chamber at the Legislative Buildings. Four members of the cabinet were present: Premier Pattullo, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Hon. K. C. MacDonald and Hon. G. M. Weir. The four other cabinet ministers are absent from the city and will take the oath on their return.

The Lieutenant-Governor is ill in California and will also take the oath later.

First part of the oath reads: "I do sincerely promise and swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to His Majesty, King Edward VIII, as lawful Sovereign of the Kingdom of Great Britain, Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the seas dependent on and belonging to the said Kingdom, and that I will defend Him to the utmost of my power against all traitorous conspiracies or attempts whatever which shall be made against His Person, Crown and Dignity, and that I will do my utmost endeavor to discover and make known to His Majesty, His Ministers and Successors, all treasons or traitorous conspiracies and attempts whatever, which I shall know to be against Him or any of them; and all this I do swear without equivocation, mental evasion, or secret reservation."

Plans for official mourning will be announced as instructions are received from Ottawa. It was said. These will include such things as black bands on official stationery, draping of the Legislative Buildings and cancellation of official functions for a certain period, it is expected.

Two other women of the royal household accompanied the Queen Mother on her second journey over the path she often walked happily with the late King.

The guards withdrew this time as the sorrowing widow advanced alone to the bier, where she knelt for seven minutes in prayer.

Norfolk neighbors of the late ruler filed slowly past the casket, on which rested the single white floral cross from the Queen Mother Mary.

A half-dozen Norfolk constables scrutinized each visitor to see he was wearing either a black tie or a mourning armband.

FILE PAST CASKET
The mourners entered through the rear door of the church and passed slowly up the centre aisle of the chapel, which seats scarcely 100 persons, past the coffin.

No member of the Royal Family was present.

The coffin was covered completely by the Royal Standard, on which rested the Queen's floral piece, fashioned of a dozen varieties of flowers grown in the Sandringham greenhouses.

Country people trudged miles across the heath and moors or through the forests to pay their last respects to the King. Many dropped silently to their knees and prayed as the queue waited patiently in the dim chapel, illuminated by two flickering candles.

Residents who had known the King all his life wept openly.

This evening the church will be closed to the public as the Royal Family gathers for its memorial service.

Guns in Canada
Fire Royal Salute

Flags, flown at half mast since the death of King George, waved from masts across the country as mourning for the dead monarch gave place for a day to greetings for his successor, the young Alberta rancher whom Canadians regard as one of themselves.

The salute of twenty-one guns thundered first from Citadel Hill at Halifax, fired from the cannon of the historic fortress by a battery whose officers wore black mourning bands on their left sleeves.

Simultaneously flags of the fort and other military establishments were raised from half mast to the mast head.

One hour later, as the sun crept from the Atlantic time zone, guns crashed in salute at Fredericton, Charlottetown, Saint John, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto and London, Ont., and flags were raised to flutter at mast heads till sundown.

AT OTTAWA
In the nation's capital four guns boomed atop Parliament Hill, just east of the spot where Edward, in 1919 as Prince of Wales, laid the cornerstones of the new Parliament Buildings, rising on the site of the old centre block burned three years before. It was the same stone his grandfather, Edward VII, laid for the original buildings in 1859 when he was Prince of Wales.

Westward an hour later Winnipeg's garrison, saluting post in the central time zone, fired its twenty-one guns near the site of old Fort Garry, landmark in the western march of empire across Canada.

AT VICTORIA
Guns barked an hour afterwards at Regina, Calgary and Edmonton in the mountain time zone, and the salute at last roared seaward from Victoria, its western outpost, four hours after it had started at Halifax.

Military flags raised at noon in each time zone will remain fluttering in honor of the new King till sunset.

They flew from Halifax to Victoria, from Sarnia, Ont., to Herschel Island in the western Arctic, perhaps they were raised also at far-off Bache Peninsula, Ellesmere Island, 700 miles south of the pole. No one knew, however, as the only Royal Canadian Mounted Police station at that point has no radio transmitter.

Great Tribute Is Paid By Baldwin

Prime Minister of Britain Says Late King George
"Won His Own Way to the Hearts of His People"

London, Jan. 22.—"King George, it is true, inherited his position on the throne, but he won his own way to the hearts of his people. . . . Not only in virtue of his office but in virtue of his person was he the first gentleman in the land."

This simple, but expressive tribute to the late King George V was made by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of Great Britain in an address yesterday broadcast throughout the empire and to all North America.

At length the Prime Minister eulogized the late King and called on his subjects to "sustain the young king," Edward VIII.

The Prime Minister described the late King George "as I have known him during this last year" and pictured him as "one who has borne the responsibilities of his position during perhaps the most difficult quarter of a century in which a monarch has ever sat on a throne."

Concerning the King's last hours, he said:

"Although what passes near the end is sacred and none of us have the desire or the right to inquire, I think I can tell you this—the King was having brief intervals of consciousness, and each time he became conscious, some kind inquiry or kind observation of someone, some words of gratitude or kindness followed."

AS A RULER

Of King George, the ruler, Mr. Baldwin declared:

"There was no respite for him during those twenty-five years. The whole world had been in a state of commotion, and there never seemed to come to him any period when he could look ahead for two or three years and feel all would be peace and quiet and nothing in the world to cause him or his people trouble."

"The world has been what a great man of the sixteenth century called 'a raving world,' and he played his part in it gallantly to the end."

Britain's Prime Minister extended his deepest sympathy to Queen Mary saying: "The one who is left is really carrying the cross for the one who has gone before."

JUBILEE REFERENCE

Referring to the occasion of King George's twenty-fifth jubilee, Mr. Baldwin said:

"I rejoice to think that he—modest as ever, diffident as to his own powers, often wondering what his people thought of what he had done and tried to do for them—I often think that it was a most wonderful experience for him to see and have brought home to him that all that he had done had sunk deep into their hearts, and the occasion of that jubilee was the occasion they all embraced to throw off that shyness so characteristic of us, and to show him openly and without shame that they were proud of him as their King, that they loved him as a man."

"The effect on him, I think, was great. He never referred to it with-out emotion. He was touched profoundly. He accepted that tribute with a thankful humility. I am indeed thankful that he lived to see it and that during these last months he knew what he meant to his people. But we knew there was no strength to spare. To come through that last illness had taken from him every reserve of strength he had. We knew, that it must go hard with him if any illness should attack him, even if it were a slight one."

CALM AND GENTLE

"I myself, noticed in the month that followed the jubilee that I had never known him so gentle, so calm, an increase of his customary consideration, his customary kindness—and I had a feeling which I expressed to my friends through all the autumn that he was ready for the long journey that he was soon to take. He was tired at times, and I used to contrast his luck with the luck of a politician—for we can and do have our old age if we live to ourselves. But the King's burden is never lifted. It goes on all through the years, and he was ready for it and the only release from it is death."

FIRST GENTLEMAN

"He brought the disposition that is lovely in private life into the service and conduct of the Commonwealth and not only in virtue of his office, but in virtue of his person, was he the first gentleman in the land. As the knowledge of the King's complete dedication to duty grew and spread as his reign proceeded, so did the respect of his people turn into reverence, and reverence into love. It is literally true that he won their hearts and during the jubilee, they made that manifest to him."

SUPPORT FOR EDWARD VIII

"This is the truth we must bear in mind as we think of the son who called upon the throne and upon whom has now fallen one of the heaviest burdens that can rest upon the shoulders of fallible and mortal man. We can best honor the noble memory of King George by gathering round and sustaining the young King, Edward VIII, who is now called upon to bear the burden of the crown."

"All eyes are upon him as he advances to his father's place. And while he is no stranger to public duty he is now summoned to face responsibility more or less more exacting than any he has hitherto been asked to discharge. He comes to them in the prime of his power and already known throughout the length and breadth of his empire. His great gifts of mind and heart he is now called upon to consecrate to his people. He inherits an example of kingly conduct, of virtue, of wisdom and of endurance."

"King George's reign was marked by far-reaching constitutional and parliamentary changes which in our long history. He earned the loyalty and respect of all parties in the state, new and old. He handed down to his son the throne he himself received from his father and he hands it down with its foundations strengthened and its dignity enhanced. It is an incomparable and awe-inspiring inheritance."

Late King's Life

Was Twice Saved

George V Fell Into Halifax Harbor When He Was Youth

Canadian Press
Halifax, Jan. 22.—Death brushed elbows more than once with the late King George V in his younger days as a naval midshipman at Halifax.

Once a Halifaxian plunged into the water to save him when he had fallen into Halifax harbor. Another time a youthful companion on an autumn trip pulled him out of Mill Lake after he had found the lumberman's log-rolling stunt too tricky for the royal feet.

Again, while he was here in the 80's as a midshipman aboard H.M.S. Canada, police broke up a suspected attempt to blow up the ship. Two men involved in the alleged plot were arrested and sent to jail.

J. J. Mulrooney received an engraved watch for the harbor rescue, and for many years after the incident he treasured a naval uniform which the then Prince gave him to replace his own sordid clothes.

On the fishing trip Neil MacLean of Hubbards was the Prince's companion. He did not know until long after that the youngster he had pulled out of the lake was the Prince.

CLOCKS ARE SET BACK HALF HOUR

Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 22.—A royal custom was broken yesterday as one of the first acts of mourning for the late King George. Clocks at Sandringham House were set back one-half hour to correspond with the standard time in use in the rest of the country.

In the reign of King Edward VII the clocks at Sandringham were set one-half hour fast. They had stayed fast ever since.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Salt Lake City, Jan. 22 (Associated Press).—Right Rev. Arthur M. Moulton, episcopal Bishop of Utah, will conduct a memorial service for King George V at St. Mark's cathedral here on the day the body of the monarch is entombed at Windsor, England.

AKLAVIK HAS BUSINESS PAUSE

Canadian Press
Aklavik, N.W.T., Jan. 22.—This tiny settlement situated near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, a few miles from the Arctic Ocean, yesterday saw a complete cessation of activity as a mark of respect for the late King George.

On Monday morning the government wireless station and mingled with the white men as they waited for further word after the message which announced the King was dying. Flags to-day were flying at half-staff and memorial services were being planned.

ONCE RODE WITH KING

Great War Veteran Was Unexpected Guest in George
V's Auto in 1919

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 22.—If he has not been taken by death himself, there is a sailor among the millions mourning King George V to-day who can boast he once rode down the Mall with the King and Queen in the royal limousine.

It happened in 1919, when the Great War veterans were coming home. A sailor, very much "under the weather" from injudicious celebrating, jumped on the running board of the King's car and insisted on shaking hands with His Majesty. An equerry, horrified, tried to push him off, but the sailor stuck to his guns.

"I've fought for him and I'm going to ride with him," he announced so that all could hear.

Suddenly a gloved hand opened the door and the King's husky voice said, "Come on in."

Soon the sailor was sitting at Their Majesties' feet.

King George had a good time on that ride down the Mall, asking questions and watching the sailor's effort to reply. The unexpected rider got out at Trafalgar Square and took off his hat as the royal car rolled away.

"Fine chap," was all he said.

NORTH HONORS MEMORY OF KING

ALLEGIANCE IS RESWORN

Governor-General, Premier and Others Take New Oath
at Ottawa

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—High government officials, including Baron Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, Premier King and Chief Justice Sir Lyman D. Duff, renewed their oaths of office yesterday and swore allegiance to King Edward VIII. The Dominion Government then prepared the solemnly-worded proclamations by which the Governor-General would advise the people of procedure to be followed incidental to the death of King George V and the accession of his son to the throne.

Chief Justice Sir Lyman D. Duff proceeded to Government House yesterday afternoon, where he was sworn by Ernest Lemaire, Clerk of the Privy Council. Sir Lyman then administered the oath to Lord Tweedsmuir, after which Mr. Lemaire returned to the Privy Council and swore in Prime Minister King and eleven of the ministers who were present.

It was stated swearing in of other public officers would be carried out as it became convenient, with chief justices of the provinces administering the oaths to lieutenant-governors and others requiring it. Since a royal proclamation would have given these functionaries power to carry on, there need be no hurry.

PRINCE STEPPED ON MAN'S FOOT

Associated Press
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 22.—Walter A. Williams well remembers King Edward VIII in 1914 when the then Prince of Wales visited the Chicago Stockyards. Williams stood near the royal car as it arrived. The Prince stepped out squarely on Williams's foot.

"Oh," exclaimed the Prince, "Are you there?"

"Just my foot," was Williams's reply.

BENNETT SWEARS ALLEGIANCE

Canadian Press
Calgary, Jan. 22.—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Prime Minister of Canada, will take a new oath of allegiance to King Edward VIII here Thursday. The oath, to be administered by E. R. Jones, clerk of the court, will be administered to Mr. Bennett as a member of the Calgary Bar Association.

In administering the new oaths here, Lieutenant-Governor Walsh will officiate first at the ceremony for Mr. Jones, who will then administer the oath to the judges of the Supreme Court of Alberta, District Court and Juvenile Court, then to the Calgary King's Councillors and finally to the Bar Association.

London Tower Ritual Changed

Guard Now Calls Out If Carries King Edward's Keys

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Jan. 22.—The grim old Tower of London yesterday evening altered the impressive ritual carried out every night for the last eight centuries.

At 10 o'clock to the roll of drums a file of Yeomen of the Guard who, in quaint Tudor uniforms, have so often walked beside the King's coach at the opening of Parliament and on other high state occasions, took part as usual in the ceremony of "locking."

The little parade marched toward the lieutenant's lodgings.

"Who goes there?" challenged the sentry.

"The keys," replied the yeoman gaoier.

"Whose keys?" demanded the sentry.

"King Edward's keys,"

Thereupon the keys were delivered to the lieutenant.

"God save the King!" cried the lieutenant.

"Amen," responded the guard.

For twenty-five years, up to yesterday evening, the second answer each evening had been "King George's keys."

OLD CUSTOM

In past centuries this ritual has broken on the ears of queens, bishops and statesmen doomed to the headsman's axe. The same sounds came in the present era to brave men sentenced for espionage who had to face the firing squad at daybreak.

Silent, bare-headed rows yesterday watched the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace and St. James's Palace. There were no bands, and the usual ceremonies were reduced to a minimum. Colors were draped with crepe and officers wore mourning bands.

Yesterday evening the customary company of guardsmen with official tokens of mourning marched as usual to guard the Bank of England, a custom which has prevailed through two centuries.

Flags at R.C.M.P. Posts and Elsewhere in Far Parts of Canada at Half-mast For Late George V

Canadian Press

Edmonton, Jan. 22.—Canada's great northland, stretching from Edmonton to the Arctic Ocean, paid homage to-day to the late King George V after word had been carried to its residents of the death of the empire's beloved monarch.

While flags were placed at half-mast on the Dominion Government radio station buildings and over the detachment of R.C.M.P. at northern posts, many people will not learn of King George's death until they "mush" into outposts with loads of fur, possibly weeks hence.

In the far-flung north pilots, who carry the mail to outposts, paused when they learned of the death.

At Port Resolution wireless operators heard the news of the death, hurried out and lowered the flag, and then informed residents who saw the flag of the death.

"Inhabitants were plunged into deep gloom," Port Resolution said. "Services were arranged at the mission to pay tribute to our beloved King."

At Chulupwayan and Fort Smith Smith plans were made for services on the day of the funeral. At Cameron Bay, new mining area of Great Bear Lake, miners paused and saw the flag at the R.C.M.P. station lowered.

FLIER TELLS OF KING'S TRAITS

Edward VIII Most Air-minded
Sovereign in World, Says
Mollison

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Jan. 22.—Col. James A. Mollison, distinguished British flier who is visiting here, says King Edward VIII is a smoker of United States cigarettes, that he enjoys a gin toddy before luncheon, and pilots his own airplane.

Col. Mollison said he was received by the then Prince of Wales three days after establishing a flying record between Australia and London.

"I was nervous," the English flier said, "but no sooner had I been presented than he flipped open his monogrammed cigarette case and offered me, not any patriotic 'tag' of British make, but one of America's most popular brands. We lighted up and sat down to discuss flying over glasses of gin toddy, which he had ordered while his equerry and I were on our way there."

"The new King has an admirable faculty for making people feel at ease in his presence. He also has an enviable first hand knowledge of airplane motors and flying ships, having earned his wings as an Air Force officer."

Col. Mollison said King Edward VIII is the most air-minded sovereign the world has ever known and is the first British King to fly.

Broker's Death Was Accidental

Coroner's Jury Recommends Repair of Ramp at Ferry Wharf in Vancouver

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Jan. 22.—A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Philip Whitehead, well-known Vancouver broker whose body was found in his car after it had been pulled from Burrard Inlet off the end of North Vancouver ferry wharf here on Tuesday of last week.

The jury, however, added a rider to the verdict stating "that the accident might have been avoided if the guard rail installed at the top of the ramp for the purpose of warning drivers of cars approaching the ferry slip had been in proper working order at the time."

Dr. W. A. Hunter, reporting on the result of the autopsy on the body, testified he believed Whitehead died as a result of drowning. Inspector J. P. C. Vance of the police bureau of science, said he could find no traces of alcohol or drugs in the stomach, blood or skin. There was no trace of carbon monoxide poisoning in the blood, Inspector Vance said, and powders found by officers in pockets of clothing only proved to be harmless sodium bicarbonate.

TELLS OF NEW FRENCH YOUTH

Very Different From Their Predecessors, Mme. A. Caro-Delville Says

A clear and impartial picture, shot with humor, of the French youth of to-day, very different in many respects from their parents, different even from their predecessors of ten years ago, was given last night to 100 members of L'Alliance Française and students by Mme Aline Caro-Delville, speaking in French at Victoria College.

Mme. Caro-Delville mentioned first the typical French youth of thirty years ago, upon whom many people in other countries still based their ideas of the typical young men and women of France of to-day, the boys and girls carefully segregated, taking no interests in sport, having their marriages arranged for them by their parents, and knowing little of the outside world.

In contrast she showed the young men and women of to-day—working, living, marrying, bringing up their children and entering careers on a basis of perfect equality.

In the colleges and universities the new movement had started in typical French fashion for reasons of economy. There were very few students of either sex in the higher classes, where the studies were without exception the most difficult in the world. To save expense boys and girls had been put together in the same classes, and the idea had worked.

Now boys and girls talked together, went out together, paid their way together and helped each other in their studies.

“There is a feeling of equality very new for France, and non-existent in the United States and Canada, when the women dominate the men.”

These young men and women, she said, married very young, generally immediately after the man's year of military service. They both had jobs, pooling their assets to make family life possible.

VERY SERIOUS
The young people of France were very serious in their outlook on life. They realized the tragedy of the world's position, thought that the last generation was to blame, and were determined not to get themselves into a similar position.

Their two typical qualities were moderation—they had few great ambitions, being content with the prospect of a simple life, with a small but fixed revenue, a small house, a family and some books—and a love of ideas.

“France is the only country on earth where it is possible to become drunk with intellectual ideas. That is the strength of France and also its peril.”

POLITICAL PASSION

This love of ideas was manifest in the fact that young France was intensely political-minded.

Every young person, male or female, paraded an emblem in his or her buttonhole, a fiery cross, the triple arrows of the Popular Front, the shield of the Royalists.

This love of politics had for its symptoms meetings, the sale of party papers, and even battles on the streets.

And yet with all this the French students frightened and at the same time impressed the foreign visitors by the immense application of their studies. Their examinations, the most difficult in the world, were all competitive. Many tried and few were chosen.

In this respect they could teach the students of the American continent many things, and could also learn from them in the matter of contact with reality.

But with their day-long study went a great love of sport—arduous sport—in their leisure time. Swimming, football, tennis, mountaineering, winter sports and exploration of prehistoric caves were their main interests.

They had still much to learn in the matter of team spirit but they were learning.

PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITIES

Mme. Caro-Delville spoke of the life in typical provincial French universities, in buildings rich and beautiful with age.

She mentioned, especially Dijon, which in the days before Louis XI, when Burgundy was the enemy of royal France, was a more cultured city than Paris, and Aix-en-Provence, where the tradition of Rome still existed.

Provincial France, she said, was the real France, and it was only now that it was opening wide its doors to the visitor. Before it had been like its own gardens, hiding the beauty of its ordered life behind high walls.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. M. Little, president of the Victoria Alliance, and thanked by Mme E. Sanderson-Mongin.

Sheepbreeders' Association

ANNUAL MEETING

Ganges, Jan. 22.—The annual banquet of the Salt Spring Island Sheepbreeders' Association was held here Monday evening, with Gavin Mowat as chairman.

All the officers were re-elected. Reports showed a successful year of activities, with the association financially sound and good progress made.

Among the speakers after business was concluded were: Dr. S. F. Tolmie, former premier of British Columbia; Dr. W. R. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner; Mrs. V. S. McLaughlin, D. H. deBurgh and Alan Chambers.

CREATES OWN END PLAY

Woman Star Provides Means Whereby Opponent Is Forced to Lead Tenace

By WM. McKENNEY

Perhaps one of the most loyal supporters of duplicate bridge is Mrs. Robert B. Fuller, of New York City, newly elected vice president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Bridge League. Her duplicate game at the Mayfair Club is one of the outstanding weekly performances in New York.

Mrs. Fuller seldom misses a national tournament and rates as one of the outstanding women players of the country. This year she was runner-up in the women's national pair event and was on the winning women's team of four at the national tournament in Chicago in December.

An end play is one of the most valuable weapons of the declarer. Some end plays are quite easy to perform. Others have to be created. In to-day's hand Mrs. Fuller outlines a very interesting end play which assisted her in making six-odd.

THE PLAY

Against the six-heart contract West opened the singleton diamond, the first suit bid by his partner. The trick was won by declarer with the ace. Three rounds of trump were

♠ K 4 3 2	♥ Q J 8	♦ K 5	♣ A J 10
♠ Q J 10 9	♥ 5 4 3	♦ 9	♣ 7 6 4 3 2
♠ 7 6 4 3 2	♥ A	♦ A K Q J	♣ 5
♠ A 3 6 5	♥ A K 9 7 6 2	♦ A 6 4	♣ Void

Duplicate—None vul.
South West North East
1♥ Pass 2N.T. 3
2♣ Pass 4 5♣ Pass
5♣ Opening lead—♦ 9 16

Today's Contract Problem

South is playing the contract at six spades. West's opening diamond lead is trumped by East. Can declarer still make his contract?

♠ Void	♥ N E	♦ 5 7 4 2	♣ 9 4
♠ K J 10 6	♥ W S	♦ Q 10 6 3 2	♣ 8 3
♠ 2	♥ A	♦ A K Q J	♣ 8 5 2
♠ J 9 8 7 4	♥ Dealer	♦ 8 5 2	♣ 8 5 2
♠ 10 7 3	♥	♦	♣

taken, picking up the outstanding trump.

Now, hoping that the spade suit would break, so that only one spade trick need be lost, declarer cashed the ace of spades and then led the five, winning the trick in dummy with the king; but East showed out, discarding a diamond.

Now East had bid clubs and diamonds, which practically marked him with the king and queen of clubs. So declarer led the jack of clubs from dummy to establish an end play position. East was forced to play the queen, declarer trumping with the seven of hearts.

Two more hearts were played, dummy discarding two spades. East released a club and a diamond. Declarer next played a diamond, winning in dummy with the king, and returned a small diamond, forcing East to win with the queen.

Now, as East held nothing but the king-nine of clubs, he had to lead into dummy's ace-ten of clubs, and the small slam-contract was made. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Port Alberni

Port Alberni, Jan. 22.—The annual meeting of the board of directors of the West Coast Hospital was held January 17, when reports were submitted showing a substantial increase in patients over 1934. Representatives from the different industries appointed for the year included Cecil Vaughan to represent the firm of Bloedel, Stewart and Welch; William Brown for Alberni Pacific Lumber Company; and Merv Dolan for the district longshoremen. Mrs. J. J. Burke is representative of the Alberni women's auxiliary, and Mrs. R. J. Burke, the Port Alberni women's auxiliary.

New officers of the B.P.O. Elks' Port Alberni Lodge were installed by Bro. Darrell Spence, of Victoria Lodge No. 2. The officers are: Exalted ruler, Clifford Gowler; leading knight, David Dootson; loyal knight, J. Humphries Jr.; lecturing knight, Fred Potter; inner guard, David Galloway; Tyler, Hugh Reid; equirer, Max MacCowan; chaplain, Harold Odium; historian, M. Stewart; treasurer, Stan Harford; secretary, Herbert Webb; trustee, Edward Homewood.

Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles arranged a social entertainment last Friday evening in the Eagles' Hall in honor of their past president, John Bohle, whose marriage was an event of the month. A. W. Neill, M.P., presented the honoree with a case of flat silverware as a token of esteem from the members.

DOMINION BANK ANNUAL REPORT

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 22.—Net profit of the Dominion Bank of Canada for the year ended December 31 was $1,130,052, a decrease of $31,569 compared to $1,161,561 in 1934, according to the annual financial statement to-day.

Deposits, however, increased with assets and liquid position was reported at 65.29 per cent of public liabilities. Deposits were $105,997,000 against $98,269,000 a year ago. The increase of $7,668,051 was about equally divided between interest bearing and non-interest bearing accounts.

Cash assets of $24,905,000 were 21.29 per cent of public liabilities and immediately available assets at $75,305,000 stood in the ratio of 65.29 per cent compared to 61.02 in 1934.

Largest in the bank's history, investment securities were $39,516,000, an increase of $5,106,000. Current loans and discounts in Canada, including municipal loans, were $48,039,000, or $2,190,000 lower than last year.

Note circulation of the bank declined $781,000 to $6,902,000.

CONCERT FOR SUNSHINE INN

Schubert Club Programme in Shrine Hall January 30

Once a year the Schubert Club holds a recital for the benefit of Sunshine Inn. This year the concert will be held in the Shrine Auditorium on Thursday, January 30.

Sunshine Inn has been in operation for four years, during which it has supplied a total of 305,635 free meals to needy persons, which include 5,345 women and 5743 children.

The inn has operated for 1,460 days and has averaged approximately 210 meals a day for the whole period.

The food needs of the inn are quite simple, as the policy has been to provide food that is not elaborate, but of good nourishing substantial quality. Among the chief requirements are: Small white beans, rolled oats, granulated sugar, jam, milk, coffee, cocoa, stewing meat, and vegetables. Orders on butchers or grocers are a sensible manner of supplying the needs. This manner of contribution is carried out in a number of cases by way of wholesalers, both in respect to groceries as well as meat.

The inn has never been in difficulties at any time, due to the economical manner in which it has been conducted and the very kind support

Fine Tribute To Late King

"Sense of Loss Is Universal," Says Hearst Editorial in U.S.

A great tribute from a great nation was paid by the press of the United States to the late King George V.

Newspapers all over the republic carried editorial praise for the former monarch of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The following, from the Hearst Seattle Post-Intelligencer, is an example:

"KING GEORGE V"

"A modest gentleman, a conscientious monarch, a faithful friend and servant of his people—such is the epitaph of King George V of England, written in the hearts of his countrymen."

"We can think of few figures among the present generation who have so impressed their fellowmen with their worth and solidity of character."

"In the course of his long reign, and confidence that people have given to it. However, a loss of $376.78 was suffered during the complete year of 1935. This deficit reduces a reserve that is held under the trusteeship of the committee. It is held to provide against the inn having difficulties that would interfere with its operation, such as has happened during the last year.

which spanned a quarter of a century, he was called on to meet many great crises—none so severe, of course, as the Great War, which tested England's moral fibre and material power as probably no event before had done in the course of her long history.

"Every crisis he met with simple courage, sustained by a deep and unshakable faith in the virtues of his people and the eventual prevalence of the principles upon which English civilization rests."

Unsparring of his time and strength, spurning leisure and repose, accepting the fatigues of numerous and long journeys, he strove in the most devoted and manly way to discharge every duty that devolved upon him.

"He sought to maintain the throne as an institution apart from politics and above the party and excitation of party, and at the same time to make its influence felt among all classes of his people as a human uplifting and sympathetic source of encouragement and guidance in the common life of the nation.

"With the constant aid and support of his Queen, whose fidelity to this aim revealed his own, he achieved a remarkable hold upon the confidence and affection of his realm."

"Probably at no time in the past has the crown stood higher in the regard of its subjects."

"Its growth in popular esteem, begun in the reign of Victoria and maintained under Edward VII, seemed to reach an even higher point during the reign of King George. It became a unifying force throughout the Empire and is to-day the strongest bond between the nations of the British Commonwealth, holding them together in loyalty and allegiance, as nothing else could."

"As an international figure, the late King exercised a salutary and wholesome influence."

"His word was good, his honesty of purpose unquestioned."

"He stood for the appeasement of strife."

"He treated other nations with sincerity and respect."

"His course in any situation was predictable with certainty—as the course of an honorable man should be."

"His standards were those of reason and good conscience, order and wise judgment."

"He presented an admirable contrast to the dictators and despots of these deluded times, who afflict mankind with their vain and shallow counsels."

"The world to-day can ill spare such virtues as were his, and the sense of loss in his death is not confined to his own people, but is universal."

JUNIOR V.O.N. DOING GOOD

Miss Jean Lennox Re-elected President of Active Young Group

A most valuable, if non-spectacular, work in the interests of sick and needy citizens was carried on last year by the young girls who compose the membership of the Junior auxiliary of the Victorian Order of Nurses. It was revealed in the reports presented at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was held at the home of the president, Miss Jean Lennox, Rockland Avenue. Miss Margaret Merrick, the secretary, recapitulated the year's achievements, showing that the members had met each month and sewing had been done for the V.O.N. patients, the following articles having been finished: 108 diapers, fourteen nightgowns, six quilts, six pairs of woolen booties, twelve woolen sweaters, two pairs of woolen pants, one woolen quilt. The baby clinic has been attended each week by one member of the auxiliary, and two members had attended the monthly meetings of the senior board of the V.O.N.

A silver tea was held at the home of Mrs. Goulding Wilson, which netted the sum of $99.91, and as the affair had been such a success, it has been decided to make it an annual event. During the summer the members assisted the senior board with its annual tag day and rummage sale. Visits were made by the members during the year to several of the V.O.N. patients, and cigarettes and magazines had been supplied to a number of men, and prenatal cases had been supplied with necessary sheets and nightgowns.

In December the members assisted with The Colonial Baby Show and also made and supplied curtains for the new senior V.O.N. rooms. At Christmas $25 was spent for clothing for two families; one with ten children and the other with five.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Jean Lennox; vice-president, Miss Margaret Merrick; secretary, Miss Margaret Merrick; treasurer, Miss Margaret Merrick.

Miss Fitz-Gibbon, president of the V.O.N. board; Miss Creaser and Mrs. Prickard were welcomed at the annual meeting and each spoke of the splendid work which the junior members are doing. Miss Fitz-Gibbon gave a donation of $5 towards the sewing fund for the coming year. The gift being much appreciated.

Following the meeting, Miss Lennox served tea.

Quartette to Play Lament For King

As a last tribute to King George V, and an expression of their deep grief at his loss, the Hart House String Quartette will play the beautiful and moving "Scottish Lament" by J. McEwan at their recital to-morrow, Thursday evening, at the Empress Hotel.

MUNICIPAL I.O.D.E.

Members of the I.O.D.E. are asked to note that, in conformity with the request of the National Chapter, all members of the order wear a royal purple ribbon beneath their badges during the period of mourning for His Late Majesty, ribbon for this purpose will be available at the meeting of the Municipal Chapter to be held in the headquarters to-morrow afternoon. This will ensure a uniformity of color and size in the ribbon.

W.M.S. CONCLUDE SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The W.M.S. of the First United Church held their regular meeting on Monday afternoon with a good attendance of members and several visitors. Mrs. A. Chisholm, the president, in the chair.

A message for the new year, inspiring all to practical Christian living, was given by Rev. E. W. Horton, who conducted the devotional period.

The yearly reports from the various secretaries were given and received with thanks. Special thanks to the press was voiced by the president, who also, in a few words, expressed appreciation of the assistance received during the past year and invited continued support in the work for the present year.

Mrs. J. Norris and Miss E. Gill were appointed delegates to the Presbyterial annual meetings to be held February 5, 6 and 7 in the First United Church.

Mrs. A. G. Todd told of the work being done by the C.G.I.T. group and invited the auxiliary to assist in their mother and daughter banquet to be held on February 14.

A petition read by the temperance secretary protesting the sale of light wines and beer in restaurants was duly signed by all present. One new member was welcomed and a life membership certificate was presented by Mrs. M. L. McLennan to Mrs. A. W. Carveth, the donor wishing to remain anonymous.

Mrs. J. W. Saunby addressed the new officers and in a bright, helpful message inspired each to give of her best to the society in 1936.

A lovely solo, "His Eye Is on the Sparrow," sung by Mrs. T. Bowden, accompanied by Mrs. E. Lang, was much enjoyed. The meeting closed with prayer led by Mrs. W. G. Wilson.

Your Baby and Mine

It is true to say that a well-fed baby is a good baby, but experience confirms that statement. In past generations goodness was not expected of a baby. His wakeful periods were invariably cross ones and his mother relied upon her ingenuity and attention to tide the baby over them. This handling and attention became a vicious circle because the more the baby had of them the more he needed and demanded them, until it was difficult to tell whether he was just spoiled or nervous or badly fed or all three.

As one mother stated it: "I walked all my babies until they were able to eat food from the table." Which statement might more accurately have been voiced this way: "When my children had enough to eat, they were good."

Three months colic, nervousness, being "spoiled" are conditions which usually may be corrected by starting with the question—Is the baby well fed? We wish that parents would ask it of themselves more often. If they need help in determining how to make changes, we suggest the following leaflet: "Feeding from Two to Twelve Months," "Fresh Milk Formulas," or "Evaporated Milk Formulas."

These should give the mother some basis for deciding what may be wrong in the feeding of her cross and nervous young infant.

There should be no necessity for pacifiers, no need for rocking and walking, no grand array of toys being shaken in front of baby's eyes by relatives desperate to entertain him. The well-fed baby is as placid as a summer morn, so fascinated by his own hands and feet, as intent on lights, waving trees, chance sounds, as if they were invented for his amusement. It isn't dearth of attention which makes for crossness, it is just the emptiness of baby's little tummy.

TINY CHAPEL IN PEACE RIVER MISSION

This is the tiny chapel attached to the mission house of Miss Monica Storrs at Fort St. John. The frontal cloth was used by her grandfather, a pioneer missionary in Nova Scotia. The kneeling pads are made of sugar sacks dyed blue and filled with old copies of Punch.

Heads Guide and Mission Work In Peace District

Miss Monica Storrs Tells of Difficulties Encountered in Interesting Undertaking at Fort St. John

Breaking the deadly monotony of existence imposed by the isolation and the long, rigorous winters, the Girl Guide movement, adapted to meet the peculiar conditions, is proving a most helpful and healthy influence for the children in the Peace River district, according to Miss Monica Storrs, Anglican mission worker of Fort St. John, when interviewed by a Times representative yesterday.

Miss Storrs is well equipped to adapt guiding to pioneer conditions, for, when visiting her brother, Sir Thomas Storrs, K.C.M.G., during his regime as governor of Jerusalem in 1919-20, she formed the first Girl Guide company in the Holy City. She is spending a few days in Victoria awaiting the arrival from Australia of a younger brother, who will accompany her on her return north and spend some time there.

Miss Storrs' primary interest is in mission work. She came out to the Peace River in 1929 and for a year did caravan work with Miss Eva Russell. After a holiday at her home in England, she returned to take up Anglican mission work in the district, and to that end erected a log house about two and a half miles from Fort St. John.

"BOARDS" AT MISSION Here she started an experiment on similar lines to the English church boarding schools, but, of necessity, on a much smaller scale. Miss Storrs has living with her three boys and three girls who are attending high school at Fort St. John. They come from homes from nine to twenty-one miles away.

Realizing that their education would inevitably be halted if they remained at home, owing to the poor roads and difficult country making the daily trip to and from school almost impossible, Miss Storrs started her "boarding house" and hopes eventually to increase the number of her boarders.

Conditions in the Peace River have been so difficult over the last few years, owing to the terribly severe winters, and the difficulty the settlers have in getting what little produce they can raise to market, that barter is the recognized medium of exchange. Instead of paying for their board in money—which is the scarcest commodity in the Peace River—the boarders make their offerings in terms of oats, potatoes, firewood or similar goods.

While on the subject of general conditions in the Peace, Miss Storrs expressed the opinion that the present "soft" winter and the removal of some of the tariff barriers between Canada and the United States would bring some amelioration to the struggling settlers. There was a better prospect for a market in the U.S. for the cattle raised in the district, while hog-raising was also being undertaken with encouraging success.

COFFEE SUBSTITUTE The settlers need some such encouragement, she says. For money has been so scarce that those commodities which come from the outside have become almost unknown in many of the homes. Among these she classed such things as sugar, tea and coffee. Barley and rye substitutes for coffee are frequently met with, while on one occasion she was regaled with "pea tea," a concoction made from peas.

"PUNCH" FOR KNEELING PADS That life in these great open spaces teaches one the virtue of necessity was demonstrated in the furnishing of the little chapel, which is attached to Miss Storrs' mission home. Built of logs, it is very simply furnished. The kneeling pads are made of coarse sugar sacks dyed blue and lined with old copies of "Punch"—a novel end for this humorous periodical! The frontal cloth has a history. It belonged to her grandfather, the late Rev. John Storrs, and was used by him when he was mission priest in

NEW METHOD OF TEACHING

Women's Convention Told Pupils Now Participate, Not Just Listen

Canadian Press Edmonton, Jan. 21.—Farm women of Alberta learned to-day of a new system of teaching primary grade pupils.

The system calls for pupil participation instead of pupil listening and has already been adopted in sixty Alberta schools.

Mrs. W. Ross, convener of the committee on education, and Miss Mary Crawford of Edmonton explained the new method at the annual convention of the United Farm Women of Alberta.

Miss Crawford said children like to imitate the action of adults, and situations similar to real ones among adults must be presented in the classroom. She told of one class of seven and eight-year-olds who were busy playing house when she visited them in the schoolroom.

"They were working in committees, making articles used in houses," she said. "When time came to go home they did not want to leave the classroom."

ACTRESS IS WELL KNOWN Mrs. Allan Wade, the Former Margot Sieveking, Coming Here Next Week

Mrs. Allan Wade, (Margot Sieveking) is accompanying her husband Allan Wade, the noted English producer actor and playwright on his trip across Canada as the adjudicator for the Dominion Drama Festival.

The daughter of A. Forbes Sieveking, F.S.A. and granddaughter of Sir Edward Sieveking started her stage career at the Old Vic, London, under Robert Atkins in 1924.

MRS. ALLAN WADE

The following year she went to the Lyric-Hammersmith under Sir Nigel Playfair where she understudied Edith Evans in "The Way of the World" and afterwards toured in the leading part. Later that year she played with the American-conducted Lyons Overman in a farce "Just Married" which had a run of over a year.

Mrs. Wade will present the awards given by Miss Kathleen Agnew and David Spencer, Ltd., to the actress and actor who in the opinion of the adjudicator give the best performance at the Victoria-sub-regional festival of the 1936 Dominion Drama Festival, being held at the Empire Theatre on Wednesday, Jan. 29.

James Arnold of 512 Simcoe St. London, Ont., said: "The Favorite Prescription has done a lot towards keeping me well and healthy. I used to be before each of my children came and it helped to alleviate many discomforts. I also used it during 'change of life' and it helped me equally as much." Buy now at drug store.

St. Andrew's W.M.S. Work Progresses

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met in the lecture room of the church on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Ellis, president, opened the meeting with praise and prayer. Reports by the secretary, Mrs. G. W. Hawkins, and treasurer, Mrs. J. P. Dempsey, were given and considered satisfactory. A letter was received from the Presbyterian secretary, Mrs. N. Scott, thanking St. Andrew's church auxiliary for use of library books. Mrs. H. Warren, welfare secretary, reported receiving names and giving them their attention.

Mrs. M. R. Fuller, junior auxiliary leader, reported this branch had been formed and the young people present were enthusiastic over the success to the new venture. Mrs. M. R. Brown, glad tidings secretary, reported she was arranging for a meeting and hoped every one would assist with it.

Mrs. F. R. Moore made a request that the members procure a book which was highly recommended. On the motion of Mrs. H. P. S. Lattrell, it was decided to buy a copy and place it in the library for the use of any member.

Mrs. Ellis then gave an interesting address on Christian missions and their message, giving instances of missionaries called by divine inspiration, all through the old and new testaments. She also read quotations from the works of Robert H. Glover, all through her address she held the attention of the members and encouraged them to fresh endeavors for the fulfillment of the mission motto to "win the world for Christ."

The meeting closed with the benediction.

Ministering Circle—The Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters will hold their sewing meeting at the home of Mrs. A. M. Perry, on Friday afternoon.

Defends Work On New Saanich Yard

Councillor W. H. Woods Explains Why Council Was Overspent on Original Estimate For Renovation; Election Campaign Warns Up at Ward Four

A stout defence of the construction and renovation of the municipal yard in Saanich, by Councillor W. H. Woods, was among the features of the election meeting at Marigold Hall, Ward Four, yesterday evening. The meeting, presided over by W. J. Lynn, was the third of this week's campaign, and was the first at which there were any signs of the usual interest which marks the municipal campaign. Councillor Woods's defence of the new yard was brought about by criticism from C. D. Atkinson and others that there was "something wrong" and the council had lacked foresight in winding up with an expenditure of $6,147 on an undertaking they had originally budgeted $2,750 for.

Councillor Woods explained the original estimate of $2,750 had been for material alone as it had been impossible to estimate the number of man days required for the job. In reply to questions, he stated the expenditure for material had gone to $3,334 and there had been $1,249 for labor.

"But what about the other $1,564?" asked Mr. Atkinson.

RELIEF LABOR USED

The councillor explained this was for relief labor used on the project, the other labor figures referring to wages paid to regular laborers.

Councillor Woods said he had just completed six years as councillor for the ward and as a candidate this year he was standing on his record of a square deal for all, with favors for none.

There collected this year totaled $252,144, or 22 per cent, which was higher than last year. These figures compared favorably with any B.C. municipality.

The government grant for motor licenses had been taken up for social services.

Outstanding expenditures for the year included $37,335 for debt interest, $56,914 for roads and bridges, $95,491 for direct relief, $56,789 of which was paid by the government, $15,128 for police, $14,868 for social services, $6,147 for the municipal yard and $2,100 for the municipal hall alterations.

Referring to the new yard work, Mr. Woods said the improvement had resulted in the prevention of equipment being pilfered. The new building was a credit to the municipality, he said.

FINANCES GOOD

The financial standing of the municipality was good, as indicated by the fact Saanich bonds could not be purchased at par.

Dealing with activities of the Health Centre, Mr. Woods said it had been vacated early in the year but there was possibility now of it being taken over as a T.B. centre by the government.

Disposition of the extra government relief grant for December, January, February and March would be left entirely with the council, he said.

Works in the ward this year had included: Cutting through of the road from Gladfield Avenue to Carey Road, which had been done at the suggestions of the ratepayers; improvements to Conway Hill, where the grade was lessened; improvements to Vliedout Road and widening and improving of Carey Road.

Mr. Woods said he had attempted to do, as much as possible, road work that would benefit everyone during the last year.

"I have always done my best and not shirked my work," Mr. Woods concluded.

It returned, Mr. Woods said he would do everything possible to have the old interurban right-of-way, now used as a road, improved.

IDEN ROGERS

Iden Rogers, council candidate, said he thought there was plenty of room for improvement in Ward Four work and the municipality generally.

He also thought it was time for new blood on the council.

He felt there should be a stricter watch kept on municipal accounts, citing the case of the municipal yard as an instance where expenditure was not checked. When the expenditure for the yard reached the estimate, he said, it was not getting it, he said, and all cases should be investigated.

In reply to a question, Mr. Rogers said he would endeavor to keep Ward Four relief workers in their own ward as far as possible.

Mr. Rogers declared himself in favor of relief workers being permitted to earn some outside money without being struck off relief.

W. N. GOLDIE

William N. Goldie, council candidate, said Mr. Woods had told what he did do, but not what he should have done and did not do.

There was plenty of rock in Saanich to lay sidewalks and there was no excuse for not using it for this purpose, he said. Also, it would cost little to do away with open drainage ditches.

He deplored the condition of the roads, which, he said, could also be repaired by use of rock. Saanich was twenty years behind the times now. He had paid taxes for twenty-two years now and could see nothing for it.

TRUSTEE JEUNE

Trustee W. P. Jeune, seeking re-election, corrected a previous impression he made and explained the school board had no control over the curriculum.

Things which were controlled by the board were: supplies, transportation, teachers' salaries (provided they do not overstep minimums and maximums), janitor's salaries, fuel, depending on weather conditions, repairs, grounds and furniture. Many of these, he said, were only controllable to a point.

Mr. Jeune again reviewed finances of the school board during the last six years, comparing the figures of the years 1930-31 with those of 1935-36, showing where savings had been made in the latter period. Among these savings had been $66,696 on account of general maintenance, $44,628 in respect of teachers' salaries, $7,895 in transportation, of which the government paid $7,810 in supplies and $852 in fuel. In the repairs and grounds accounts there were increases in the last three years of $2,544 and $2,863.

In the late period $34,019 less was taken from municipal revenue and $1,369 less in the "Craigholme" fund. The loss in government grants in the last three years was $19,816, which made the total amount less on which the board had operated $55,225.

The result had been a net decrease in the mill rate, considering assessment decreases.

Mr. Jeune spoke of the harmony with which the board had operated during the last year.

TRUSTEE HULL

Trustee A. E. Hull, also seeking re-election, said Mr. Jeune had dealt with the major activities of the board and there was little to add.

The record of the 1935 board stands out as second to none delivered to you by any elected representative, he said.

He stressed the harmonious operation of the board in the last year.

There was $7,257 spent on repairs during the year, the biggest undertaking being at Strawberry Vale.

TRUSTEE ALDOUS

Trustee F. G. Aldous, who is standing again, defended the board's action in giving salary increases to teachers. These increments had been promised when teachers contributed pay cuts and it was only right they should be carried out.

He had worked for restoration of the school since there had been complete harmony on the board.

Mr. Aldous dealt with a criticism of the fuel account of Cloverdale and McKenzie Avenue schools. At Cloverdale with 300 pupils, the 1935 bill was $150, while at the new McKenzie Avenue School, with a population of 167, it was $239.

Mr. Aldous explained when the new school was built it was necessary to heat it to a maximum for six months to dry it out. Also there was no carryover from the previous year as in the case of the Cloverdale and other schools.

CHAS. F. HUNT

Charles F. Hunt, school board aspirant, expressed his thanks to Mr. Aldous for the explanation of the fuel accounts of Cloverdale and McKenzie Avenue schools, which he (Mr. Hunt) had criticized at the Ward Three meeting.

Mr. Hunt said he was not in favor of the present education system and felt it should be under the control of the federal government. There would be several faults of the present system overcome by having education taken over on a national basis. He felt all text-books should be printed by the King's Printer and not published and sold for profit as at present.

He felt the duties of school trustee were onerous ones and was conscious of the responsibility which would be his if elected. Every care should be taken by trustees to exercise full control over controllable expenditures in the interest of the taxpayers, he said.

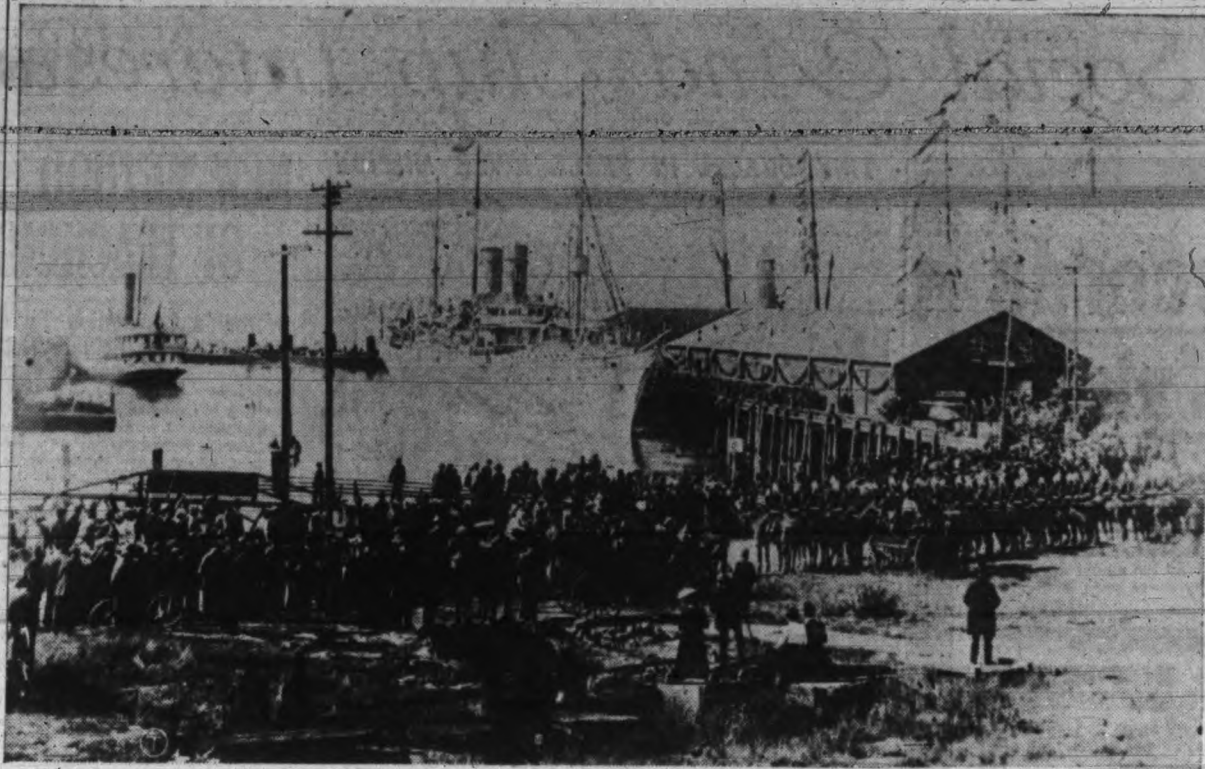

He had been a Saanich resident for twenty-two years and was offering his services at a time when he thought there was need for a change.

L. W. GODDARD

Police Commissioner Lewis W. Goddard, seeking re-election, made his first appearance in the campaign. He appreciated the honor accorded by electing him to the board for the last four years and he pledged himself to continue the service which had marked his term of office. He briefly recounted the commission work during the year outlining the expenditure of a little over $12,000 and said the commission had treated all fairly.

In reply to charges of his opponent against bootlegging in the municipal

GAY SCENE AT OUTER WHARF WHEN THEIR MAJESTIES ARRIVED

Thirty thousand people gathered at the Outer wharves on October 1, 1901, to welcome the late King George and Queen Mother to Victoria. The royal ship, the beautiful Empress of India, is shown in the foreground, while astern of her is the fleet destroyer Sparrowhawk. The famous old coastal steamer Chamer, which has recently been broken up, is at the left of the picture while on the opposite side of the dock to the Empress of India is the United States steamer City of Puebla and ahead of her, with masts and yards bedecked, is H.M.S. Concor, which founded off Cape Flattery shortly after with all hands. In the immediately foreground is the mounted guard of honor and some of the spectators and in the dim background are H.M.S. Amphion and H.M.S. Wasp.

CREDIT HERE UP TO DATE

Victoria Up With U.S. Cities in Application of Easy Payment System

Methods of handling credit in Victoria are as modern as those of the United States cities, according to a consensus of opinion expressed at yesterday's meeting of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria.

Prior to the opening of the meeting, held in Spencer's dining-room, members of the association stood in silent tribute to the memory of His Majesty King George V.

A paper on "Granting of Credit on Ordinary Merchandise," prepared by the manager of one of New York's largest retail firms, was read by Harry B. Dawson.

The article dealt in detail with the selling of merchandise on terms of ninety days without interest. It had been practiced successfully in several large eastern cities. As a result of the system, 50 per cent more new credit accounts had been opened, regular thirty-day accounts maintained their volume and the increased loss in collections was only one-tenth of 1 per cent, the paper stated.

The experiment on the ninety-day interest-free system had been tried on fur-trimmed coats and had been extended later to other "soft" merchandise.

The usual procedure regarding the morale of the customer, income and the ability to make payments without hardship had been followed, Mr. Dawson said.

Ganges

Ganges, Jan. 22.—The annual vestry meeting of the parish of Salt Spring Island was held at the vicarage, Central Settlement, January 16, Rev. C. H. Popham presiding. The annual report and financial statement were given by Stuart Holmes.

Election of officers took place as follows: St. Mark's, vicar's warden, W. Wilson; Central Settlement, people's warden, W. M. Palmer; St. Paul's, Ganges, vicar's warden, G. Borradaile; people's warden, A. R. Price; St. Mary's, Fulford, vicar's warden, J. J. Shaw; people's warden, Harold Price; delegates to synod, J. Shaw and C. S. Holmes; rural dean's conference, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Speed; church committee, Mrs. H. Moorhouse, Mrs. F. Speed, Mrs. T. Charlesworth, E. Tassell, G. Beddis, W. J. Page, T. Martell and A. G. Crofton; cemetery committee, vicar and churchwardens.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Crofton, Harbor House, entertained at a jolly dance and bridge party last Saturday evening in honor of their son Paddy's twenty-first birthday.

The guests included Capt. and Mrs. V. C. Best, Mr. and Mrs. K. Butterfield, H. W. Bullock, H. Belyea, Misses Doreen, Denise and Dulce Crofton, Lieut. Desmond Crofton, Mr. and Mrs. Dermot Crofton, Miss Chantelle, Miss Davy, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eaton, Mrs. Elliott, Miss S. Halley, Mrs. D. S. Harris, Mrs. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kingsley, H. Kirkpatrick, Miss B. Kinsbury, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Lowther, Col. A. R. Layard and Miss L. Layard, Miss M. Leth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Morris, H. McMillan, Miss E. Morris, Fred Morris, C. S. Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. N. McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Reade, Dr. and Mrs. R. Rush, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scott, Miss M. Scott, Col. A. B. Snow, Mr.

Mr. Goddard said, "If you know of any you should report it."

It was late when James Pickard, commission candidate, took the floor. He advocated a change in the commission personnel and promised "a square deal to everybody" if elected.

Before the meeting opened, the audience stood in silent tribute to the memory of King George V.

Mounted Guard Over Late King

Tom Wilson, 2364 Oak Bay Avenue, Was on Duty at Marlborough House When King George Was Nineteen Years of Age

The death of King George V. is felt deeply by Tom Wilson, 2364 Oak Bay Avenue.

Mr. Wilson joined the First Battalion, Scots Guards, in London in 1884, at the age of sixteen, and went on duty with the various palace guards in the capital.

In 1885 he was on guard at St. James Palace at the time of the wedding of Princess Beatrice. Following the ceremony he mounted guard in the gardens of Marlborough House under the window of the room where King George, then a naval officer, was sleeping. The then Prince George was nineteen years of age, and had gone to London from his ship at Portsmouth to attend the wedding.

Mr. Wilson went overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and met King George again at Longmoor, Salisbury, where his battalion was in camp. The King and the Queen visited the camp informally on the day before the unit left for France.

AFFECTION FOR NEW KING

Mr. Wilson has a personal affection for the new King. He was right-hand man of the late King when King Edward VIII, then Prince of Wales, visited Victoria in 1919. The Prince spoke to him personally for some time, expressing surprise that he had served so long.

He has many amusing experiences to tell of his young days in the Scots Guards. Twice he nearly got himself into trouble for not presenting arms to distinguished personages whom he did not recognize. One was Gladstone, who was leaving No. 10 Downing Street with Parnell at the time of the Irish troubles in 1885, and the other was the old Duke of Cambridge, who entered St. James Palace unrecognized in the same year. The duke took the mistake in good spirits, and solemnly walked to his coach again on some pretext to give the guard, who had been hastily corrected by his sergeant, an opportunity to go through their ceremonial properly.

Mr. Wilson is a tall man heavy, and still retains his soldierly bearing. The years have passed over him lightly, and it is hard to believe that he is only two years younger than King George.

Young Socialists Elect Officers

The central Saanich branch of the Young Socialist League completed eight months of successful activities with the election of new officers recently. They are Pearl Wakeman, chairman; Roy Wootton, vice-chairman; John Patterson, recording secretary; Ruby Wootton, corresponding secretary; Arthur Anderson, treasurer; Brian May, social convener, and Murray Bryce, educational chairman.

The Young Socialist League is the British Columbia section of the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movement, its aim to organize youth for the elimination of a socialist state in which the workers will own the means of wealth production.

The central Saanich Y.S.L. branch has met at least twice a month since organized last May Day. Educational and social activities are combined. Interested young people are invited to communicate with any of the officers for more information.

Drive Planned By Directors

Y.M.C.A. Board Set Date of Financial Drive For March 16

At the monthly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. board of directors held Monday evening in the association building it was decided that the annual financial campaign would be started on March 9.

Ernest Harrison was appointed to represent the local "Y" at the National Council, which will be held in Hamilton on February 14, 15 and 16, and W. T. Strath was appointed alternate delegate.

In his report for the house committee Frank Paulding said the partitioning off of the lobby was progressing favorably. The new lecture room so formed would, with the addition of fifty chairs authorized by the directors, make an ideal meeting hall.

E. G. Bowbottom reported an increase in memberships and fees paid. The board regarded with satisfaction the report of J. O. Cameron, who showed the organization to be well within its income and expenditure.

Mr. Harrison's report for the physical department covered volleyball, badminton, swimming and the general physical programme and showed all these branches to be progressing satisfactorily.

The report on the boys' work was given by Mr. Strath, who touched on the success of the Tuxis and Older Boys' parliament. A successful New Year's frolic had been held in the Y.W.C.A. under the auspices of the girls' clubs of the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. Quad Club.

The social and educational committee report was given by Dr. T. W. A. Gray, who dwelt briefly on the several meetings and banquets of the public speaking classes and described the fine progress these groups were making.

Mr. Reynolds reported on the religious and foreign committee work, and said $18 had been raised for the latter project. An additional $23 raised by W. A. Jamieson and $20 raised by the boys' department had brought the total to $63.

Thanks were extended to all who had assisted in the New Year's Day programme.

Many letters were received by the board from the clergy of Victoria expressing thanks for the complimentary memberships sent to them.

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Jan. 22.—Nearly 1,600 athletes from twenty-eight nations were certified to-day by the Olympic committee as competitors in winter sports.

The total number of 1,593 exceeded by 400 the estimate when the entry list closed January 15. Germany heads the list with 164 entries followed by Austria 155, United States 131, and Canada sixty-three.

Greece and Australia had the fewest—four each.

R. G. JACKSON TO LECTURE HERE

Seventy-eight-year-old Physical Wonder Will Arrive January 23.

Robert G. Jackson, M.D., who will lecture in the Shrine Auditorium on Thursday and Friday, is no stranger to Victoria audiences, having appeared on several occasions in the lecturer may be attributed to two fundamental truths: he has a message of vital importance which he delivers with such conviction and enthusiasm that his audiences listen spellbound to the story of what Dr. Jackson has accomplished for himself and for others.

Dr. Jackson is being pressed to undertake lecture tours in Great Britain, so this may be the last opportunity the people of Victoria will have to hear him for some years.

End Bad Cough Quickly, at One Fourth the Cost

Homa-Mixed! No Cooking! Easy!

Thousands of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a much more effective remedy. They use a recipe at only one-fourth the usual cost of cough medicine, but which really breaks up distressing coughs in a hurry.

From a drugget get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and add granulated sugar syrup to fill the bottle. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and makes a really effective remedy. Keeps perfectly and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, helping to clear the sinuses, has caused it to be used universally throughout Canada.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine in concentrated form, well known for its effect on throat membranes. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

LATE KING WAS KEEN SPORTSMAN

Yachting, Golfing and Horse-racing Among Pastimes of George V.

London, Jan. 22.—By the death of King George V the sporting world has lost one of its most enthusiastic principals. The British King was not merely an interested spectator of events in the world of sport, but he took a keen and wholehearted part himself in many pastimes. He was a skilful golfer, a crack shot, a yachtsman of yachtsmen and a devoted, if unlucky, follower of horse-racing.

Perhaps it was in yachting that the King was best known. His sloop Britannia, which he personally raced for many years, even in the last years of his life, was always in high rating in the annual Royal Regatta at Cowes. The King's early training made him an excellent seaman, and he had little objection to racing in the stiffest of weather. He was thoroughly acquainted with the fine points of yacht racing and the captain of the Britannia knew that if he were in a tight place and needed an answer for his problem he could always rely on his King to furnish one.

TOOK ACTIVE PART

The King invariably was aboard the Britannia for the races. Nor did he take a merely passive part. Several instances have been recorded when the King lent a hand himself in pulling on a rope.

One or two United States yachts and yachtsmen have had the privilege of taking part in yachting competition with the royal sailor. Several yachts which competed in the King of Spain's 1928 transatlantic race in the United States to San Francisco have at various times come to England to test their speed against the Britannia. One of the King's firmest friends was Sir Thomas Lipton, who owned the famous line of Shamrock yachts, and entered them time after time against United States yachts.

WAS DISQUALIFIED

It is worthy of notice that in no race was the King ever given an advantage because of his position. For instance, several years ago, in the Bristol Channel Royal Regatta, the owner of the yacht Westward protested against the Britannia, asserting the King's boat did not give the Westward a free course around one of the buoys. The committee declared the protest valid and disqualified the Britannia from winning the second prize. Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock having captured the first.

King George was well known, too, for his Newmarket racing stables. In this venture he was much less fortunate than in yachting. In one year he lost about $100,000. His winnings in that year were only $3,000, and his expenses just over $100,000. The consequence of his losses that year, King George made efforts to curtail his racing proclivities.

In this respect, he took after his father, King Edward VII. Queen Victoria's letters and diary published in recent years disclose that she wrote to her son, urging him not to make too many visits to the race tracks. One letter began:

"Dearest Bertie: Now that Ascot is

"JAFSIE" CRUISE VISITOR AT CRISTOBAL

Dr. J. F. Condon and his daughter, Mrs. Myra Hacker, above, were visitors yesterday at Cristobal, Panama Canal Zone, where the Ss. Santa Rita arrived from New York. At Trenton, N.J., Attorney-General D. T. Wilentz said Condon was not being required to return there to answer questions in the Hauptmann case. Dr. Condon boarded the Santa Rita for a southern cruise after announcing cancellation of plans for a Vanderbilt lecture tour, objections having appeared in the press and elsewhere to any appearance of his capitalizing the Lindbergh case.

approaching I wish to repeat earnestly and seriously that you confine your visits to the races to Tuesday and Thursday, and that you do not go Wednesday or Friday, to which your Uncle William IV never went, nor did we."

FINE HORSEMAN

King George V was himself a good horseman, uniting the rare qualifications of being an equestrian and also a sailor. He was frequently seen, even after he was sixty years of age, riding on Rotten Row in Hyde Park, early in the morning. He would also frequently ride out to the field to start off a hunting pack.

Even when not entering a horse in a race, the King was a frequent spectator of the major races. Several years ago, while a guest of the Duke of Richmond, the King drove over to Goodwood every day for the races as long as the season lasted.

ARDENT FAN

The King's tastes in sport were certainly catholic. He attended football, cricket and polo matches, and in 1924 was a delighted spectator at a baseball game between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox, who were traveling in Europe. A foul ball sped directly toward him at one portion of the game, and although the King was well protected by the wire screening behind the home plate, he dodged, evidencing quick reaction and a good eye. Following the game the members of both teams were introduced to the King and the Prince of Wales.

ETHELLENT SHOT

George V was an excellent rifle shot. His skill in grouse shooting will be long remembered in the Yorkshire moor districts.

The King was a golfer of more than moderate ability. The Prince of Wales often cast good-humored aspersions on his own golf, but this could not have been the case with the King. Next to yachting and horse racing, the King liked a good game of golf. On his summer visits to Balmoral Castle, England, and to Holyrood Castle, he enjoyed many a round on true old Scottish greens.

Drama Behind News of Death

The story behind the scenes—how the news of King George's death was flashed within a few minutes of its occurrence to more than half the world's population—was one of dramatic intensity.

It would take hours to relate the intricate details of the vast services which enabled every part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, and the other countries as well, to know of the King's passing in so short a space of time.

So highly efficient have news telegraph services become that word reached Victoria over the Canadian Press cables as quickly as it was broadcast from the British Broadcasting Corporation's stations at Devon.

In every newspaper office of any size in Canada—the same as all other parts of the Commonwealth—presses were poised to roll off extra editions. Regular editions had gone to the streets bearing the news the end was near. Then the high-speed mechanism of the modern newspaper world was prepared to carry the final word to the people. Within twenty minutes of the King's death—which was not announced immediately. The Victoria Times had its extra on the streets.

Never in history has the news of such an event been dispatched around the world with such speed. The resources of every great news-gathering organization combined with government and private transmission services to bring the word with the minimum of delay.

A GREAT WHITE THRONE

For ages upon ages, highly colored sediments were laid down by stream and wind over the broad plains of the southwest. Then millions of years ago, came the great uplift, the vast Colorado plateau arose, and streams carved out rocks and exposed the gorgeously colored layers of hardened earth.

Zion National Park, Utah, is the finest example of this dazzling earth change, and "The Great White Throne" is its most stupendous monument. The uplifted rock rises almost 3,100 feet above the canyon floor, deep red sandstone changing gradually into a thick cap of white at the top.

This great pile of sediment is the view on the eight-cent stamp of the National Parks series, issued in 1934.

BANK USES EXPLAINED

Booklet Outlines Services and Correct Forms of Institutions

There is much about bank methods and practices that is a mystery to the ordinary man and woman. They know about having accounts and cheques, but they know little about numerous other services that the banks are prepared to give them.

To enlighten the public on the subject, the Bank of Montreal has just issued a "new" edition of its booklet entitled "Your Bank and How You May Use It." Prepared for the purpose of setting forth the many ways in which the bank can serve the individual, this booklet is really a most valuable manual on Canadian banking.

One of the surprises it provides for the reader is the extraordinary range of services which the bank offers to the public. Something like a score of these services is listed, and not only is each service explained in language that is easily understood, but the correct methods of procedure are also described.

In the latter connection, the booklet is illustrated by reproductions of various bank forms correctly filled out, and such points as the difference between "order" and "bearer" cheques are explained and illustrated.

Among the subjects dealt with is that of borrowing money from the bank—a subject that is of timely interest and of particular importance. The booklet may be had for the asking at any branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Garden City

Miss Irene McDonald entertained the graduates of the Spott-Shaw Business Institute last Thursday evening at her home on Esquimaux Road at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Jean Fryatt, whose wedding will take place early in February. The many beautiful gifts were concealed in a novelty type-writer, and during the evening Miss E. Noonan presented Miss Fryatt with a bouquet of pale pink carnations and fern. Games and singing were enjoyed by the guests and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Blair and Miss Joan Read.

The guests included Mrs. Blair, Betty Frenn, Mary Hall, Florence Jenkins, Ida Cassillo, May Pendray, Ruth Kinch, Jean Craig, Joyce Dixon, Dorcas Kennedy, Leslie Sparks, Marjorie Woolley, Joan Read and Georgina Cochrane.

Garden City United Church choir held its annual meeting and election of officers at the Carey Road church last Friday evening. The choir had a very successful year under the leadership of J. Jones, choirmaster, and W. R. Woods, president.

Election of officers was as follows: President, W. R. Woods; choirmaster, J. Jones; pianist, Miss Elsie Fryatt; assistant pianist, Jack Allan; librarian, Mrs. W. F. Brown; assistant librarian, Mrs. A. C. Alexander; treasurer, Mrs. T. Floyd; recording secretary, Mrs. R. A. Scott; auditor, J. Hobden; social committee, Mesdames J. Jones, A. C. ## This Shows WHY You Get Such Fast Relief from "ASPIRIN"

WHY "ASPIRIN" WORKS SO FAST

Drop an "Aspirin" Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches bottom of the glass it has started to disintegrate. What it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence its fast action.

Quick Relief for Headaches, Neuritis, Rheumatic Pains

The old adage says, "what you see you believe." So the nurse, pictured above, shows you two actual photographs to prove the quick action of "ASPIRIN."

Look at them, and you will see one reason why Scientists rate "ASPIRIN" among the fastest agents, now known or ever known, for the relief of headaches, neuritis, neuralgia and rheumatic pains. You'll see that an "Aspirin" tablet, dropped into a glass of water, starts to disintegrate, or dissolve, before it hits the bottom of the glass. Hence, is ready to go to work almost instantly you take one. For what happens in that glass happens in your stomach when you take an "ASPIRIN" tablet. Relief comes in a few minutes.

Countless thousands know that about "ASPIRIN." Know by experience that it brings the quick relief you want when in distress.

Keep this in mind the next time your work or play is handicapped by a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain. Learn for yourself how fast you can get relief.

● "Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

HUDSONS and TERRAPLANES

"There's a car that can GO, and KEEP ON going!"

SIZE? Many cars priced hundreds of dollars higher fall far short of Hudson and Terraplane in size, wheelbase, overall length. None in their own price ranges can equal them.

STYLE? Here is the only really distinctive new design in the medium and low price field.

SAFETY? Only Hudson and Terraplane have Radial Safety Control (patent applied for)—the revolutionary principle that makes riding, steering and stopping safer. The same is true of Tru-Line Steering—the Rhythmic Ride; and the Electric Hand (optional at slight extra cost).

BRAKES? No other car gives you—Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes. Latest and finest hydraulics, with a separate safety braking system that takes hold automatically if ever needed. Two complete braking systems, operated by one brake pedal.

BODIES? They are all of steel, reinforced inside with steel, with seamless roof of solid steel—found in no other popular cars.

And, pay what you will, no car develops such power on so little gasoline as Hudson and Terraplane. And owners report amazing durability, with mileages 150,000, 200,000 and even more. Ask for proof of that, then convince yourself—behind the wheel. Let us show you.

Boston and Chicago Score Shutout Wins In Major Hockey

THE SPORTS MIRROR

CONNIE SMYTHE is still a pretty shrewd dealer when it comes to hockey trading. He is reported to have secured $16,500 for "Flash" Hollett, a hockey player who was unable to make the grade with Toronto Maple Leafs, after a very promising start last year. Around the Toronto camp they do not like hockey players who can laugh at a defeat or treat a setback as just another hockey game. They like their players to trot into the dressing-room sore and dissatisfied. Hollett made some very bad mistakes along this line.

when chided with these he did a little clowning, brought some of the Hollett humor to the rescue. This attitude, indeed, Connie Smythe, who is really one of the toughest losers in hockey. So Hollett was tabbed for the market.

One of the strange things about the deal is that it was negotiated between Art Ross and Connie Smythe. This pair hardly even glance at each other as a rule, but when important money has to be talked over they can unbend plenty. Boston paid a lot of money for Hollett if the figures quoted are correct. Still, he can afford to be correct. If he does not repay them in a playing way, he should more than bring back his purchase price in publicity as he is a prolific source of such copy as followed in the wake of Dizzy Dean when he broke into big time baseball.

Smythe wrote off an outstanding account when he sold Hollett. An account which had been a source of irritation, as it represented a twenty thousand dollar loss on the ill-fated pro boxing experiment some years ago. The Maple Leaf Gardens backed the pro venture to the tune of $20,000. When the fragments were picked up when the league exploded after two years operation, leaving a number of deluded amateurs stranded as well as promoters moaning with anguish, one of the pieces of bric-a-brac picked up was Hollett.

Now Hollett at the time was a fine lacrosse player, but a very ordinary hockey player, verdant in the extreme. He played around mercantile teams, had no ambition or pretensions to N.H.L. rating at the time. Bucko McDonald came under the same heading. He was an even better lacrosse player than Hollett.

Both players were shrewd enough to demand a hockey contract as well as a stipend for lacrosse. Smythe needed them, had no place to put them in hockey, but decided to let time take after that matter. Connie always was a gambler, so he was willing to take a chance. He sent Hollett to Buffalo in due time. Then he loaned him to Ottawa. Neighbor and Boucher, respective coaches of Buffalo and Ottawa, made quite a job of polishing up Hollett.

In manoeuvring round to place some desired trophy on his reserve list, Connie let McDonald off for a day. It was enough. Eagle-eyed Jack Adams noted his absence from the list. He had noted the heavy checking of McDonald. He liked his way of stepping in. So he lifted Bucko from the very verdant Connie.

So Smythe saved Hollett from the lacrosse wreck. When he became a Leaf he started to star. Other clubs became interested. He was playing good hockey till the playoffs last winter. Then he skidded. At the start of this season he kept skidding right in to Syracuse.

Now he has been sold. Smythe has almost paid off his lacrosse losses. Hollett should help Bruins, at least in a publicity way. They must figure he will or they would not have paid so much for him.

Fighter Suffers From Concussion

Portland, Ore., Jan. 22.—Young Firpo, 172, Burke, Idaho, tossed a left hook to the temple of Nash Garrison, 178, Oakland, Calif., yesterday evening to win the scheduled ten-round battle in the first sixty-five seconds of the initial round. Garrison was rushed to the police emergency hospital. Reports from attendants indicated he incurred a brain concussion.

Shore Nets First Goal of Season To Beat Maroons

Counter Comes With Three Minutes to Go; Thompson's Counter Beats Rangers

CHICAGO TAKES SECOND PLACE

Boston 1, Maroons 0.
Chicago 1, Rangers 0.

Eddie Shore, the dynamic wheat farmer, has at last broken the jinx that prevented him from scoring a goal in the first half of this season's National Hockey League season. The ace defenseman started as many plays as anyone else in the league and really earned the twelve assists he was credited with, but up until yesterday evening he had been unable to bulge the twine behind any of the league goalies.

When his first goal came it was a game from Montreal Maroons for Boston Bruins just as Paul Thompson did in New York for Chicago Black Hawks. Bruins beat the Montrealers 1 to 0 and Hawks won from Rangers by the same score.

THOMPSON SHINE
The two shutout victories decided the only games played yesterday evening, a scheduled contest between Montreal Canadiens and Maple Leafs in Toronto being postponed because of the death of King George V. The Thompson family did well on the evening. While Paul was winning for Hawks in New York, brother Tiny scored his seventh shutout of the season in Boston. He has played one more perfect game than Mike Kamela, sensational Chicago rookie goaltender, who was in the nets when Rangers were blanked.

Shore had to wait until the third minute of the game before he got his winning goal. He started one of his characteristic rushes, and passed to Red Beattie at the enemy blue line. Beattie shot and Billy Beveridge dove to the ice after the puck. Shore scooped it up and had a wide opening for his shot.

Thompson's goal gave him scoring leadership of the American division. He scored it after taking a long pass from Doc Romnes. Sliced into the corner, he whirled suddenly and whipped a sharp angle shot past Dave Kerr.

The Boston win didn't get them out of the American section cellar, but it brought them within a game of Rangers who dropped back into third place as Hawks moved into second, two points behind Detroit Red Wings.

New York saw Earl Seibert in a Hawk uniform for the first time since he was traded by Rangers to Chicago, and fans formed the opinion he showed better on the night than Art Coulter, whom Rangers got in return.

The Kitchener, Ont., player was good both offensively and defensively, while Coulter did his best work in defensive play.

Teams and summaries follow:
Boston—Thompson, Shore, Jenkins, Welland, Clapper, Beattie, Kaminsky, Sands, Runge, Grabar, Seibert, O'Neill, Cowley, Duguid, Blake.

NO GRUDGES IN HOCKEY

Seibert and Coulter Give Views After First Game Against Old Mates

New York, Jan. 22.—There is no place in the National Hockey League for a grudge.

Take it from Earl Seibert, former New York Rangers player, now with the Chicago Black Hawks, and Art Coulter, the former Black Hawk from Winnipeg who now bodychecks for Rangers.

These players opposed their old teammates for the first time since their trade as the Black Hawks defeated the Rangers, 1 to 0, in Madison Square Garden yesterday evening. There had been talk of dire intentions, intimations Seibert was going to bust his old mates around and that they were going to return the compliments. Coulter was supposed to have some old scores to settle also.

The goodly crowd roared as Seibert gave Lynn Patrick, son of the Rangers manager, a bruising check just after the game opened. The vendetta was under way, they said.

NO ONE HURT
But no one was hurt badly and there wasn't even a fist fight to enliven the proceedings. Seibert, back in the dressing-room sitting on a bench, said it was a great game.

Was he sore? Not at all. "There's no place in hockey for grudges," he said.

Over in the Ranger dressing-room, Coulter emerged from a shower.

No hard feelings with him against the players, he said.

Coulter drew a big Turkish towel down over his face and one could see the earmarks of his faded-red lines over the eyes, across the cheek bones and along the jaw line where slashing sticks and flying pucks had traced their way.

"You know I got banged around plenty out there to-night. Look at these marks on my arms from being hooked."

"Do you think the boys were laying for you?"

"Certainly not. There's none of that stuff in this game."

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, an American sea captain was convicted by a British admiralty court in 1799 on evidence found in a shark's stomach—evidence that the captain tried to destroy by throwing it overboard when a British man-of-war overtook his brig.

The captain was suspected of sailing under false colors and was in fact a privateer preying on British commerce, but when his ship was overtaken he threw a packet of incriminating documents into the sea. He was arrested, however, and taken to Kingston, but evidence against him was meagre and officials were about to free him when another British ship sailed into port with the documents the captain had thrown overboard.

Lieutenant Pitton, on the latter vessel, had caught a shark and in it found the papers. On the strength of these the case against the captain was proved, and he went to prison. The incriminating papers may still be seen in the museum of the Institute of Jamaica at Kingston.

The Swedish government accords 'Lapps' certain legal rights not given other citizens. None but a Lapp may own reindeer in Lapp territory, and for every reindeer killed by the state railroad, the government gives the Lapps approximately $10. Lapps are also exempt from military service and their taxes are very low.

To-morrow: Heat at Zero.

PLANS MADE TO BRING U.S. SWIM ACES HERE

Negotiations were nearing completion for the appearance here, probably in February, of Jack Medina, outstanding United States swimmer, and the Washington Athletic Club's U.S. national women's relay championship team, Frank Hyslop, president of the Vancouver Island Swimming League announced to-day.

The squad represents the pick of the talent developed by Ray Daughters, coach of Helene Madison and Medina, and includes some of the leading luminaries in the swimming world at present. While details were lacking it was understood the women's team would include Olive McKean, Mary Lou Petty, Doris Buckley and Betty Lea.

NAME TWO Y NET CHAMPS

Jennie Ward Takes Singles Crown; Teams With Peggy Cheer to Win Doubles

After dropping the first game, 2-11, Jennie Ward, clever Y.M.C.A. shuttle star, made her shots count to beat Peggy Cheer, 11-6 and 11-9, in the second and third to win the women's singles title in the association's badminton club championship play yesterday evening.

Later in the evening the two women finalists teamed up to wade through other opposition and take the women's doubles final from Kay and Viv Martin. The scores were 12-15, 15-4 and 15-1.

In all other divisions, finals are scheduled for this evening.

In one of the best matches of the evening Jimmie White and Alf Slocumb defeated Carson and W. Martin in a stirring extra point three-set duel. White and Slocumb took the first encounter, 15-12, dropped the second, 14-17, and struggled through a torrid third to win, 18-17.

Y Swimmers Gain Surprise Victory

Peden, McConnan Make Rep Team

Doug Peden, ranky Fifth Brigade forward, and Ronnie McConnan, clever three-quarter of the Bays-Wanderers, were officially named members of Victoria's rep team to meet New Zealand All-Blacks at Macdonald Park next Wednesday—following yesterday evening's practice of the local fifteen. Their appointments brought the team to full strength. The boys will keep up workouts until early next week and should be in fine condition when they take the field against the famous touring side.

COAL CAGERS IN PLAY-OFFS

Defeat Trade-Ats 36 to 29 and Get Third Berth in Intermediate A Finals

Kingham-Gillespie, smooth-working intermediate A cage squad yesterday evening secured the third berth in the play-offs for their division when they defeated the Trade-Ats 36 to 29 at the High school gym. In the feature of the three-tussle programme staged by the Victoria and District League.

The final game on the card saw West Saanich Mercantiles snow under the Tiliacums 53 to 39. In the opening tilt Pantorium Girls came from behind to beat the Cardinals 28 to 18.

Playing smarter ball than their opponents, Kingham-Gillespie soon got away to a fine lead and as the teams reached half-time the score stood 24 to 11 in their favor. On the resumption of play the Trade-Ats rallied strongly and at the twelve-minute mark were within two points of their opponents. The Coal Merchants succeeded in halting the determined bid for victory and surged ahead to win by seven points.

LOSE CHANCE
Tiliacums lost a good chance to take over third berth in the post-season play-offs of the Senior B League race, when they were defeated by West Saanich. The suburban squad were leading the clubmen 36 to 14 at half-time.

The defeat placed them in a tie with Lake Hill. The Tiliacums and Lake Hill will battle it out Friday evening at Lake Hill in a sudden-death fixture, which will decide the quintette which will receive the last berth in the finals.

Taking the lead for the first time early in the final quarter, Pantorium women cagers downed the Cardinals, leading 13 to 12. It was a close game and some good basketball was displayed.

"Chuck" Sharp, Jim McCague and Bill Levy refereed.

The teams and scores follow: Pantorium—R. Bethel (4), E. Trotter, M. Purdy, E. Miles (6), M. Peden (12), L. Sparks (6) and G. Taylor. Total 38.

Cardinals—V. Hannan (6), D. O'Connor (4), B. Crosby (1), I. Milliken, V. Hall (2), M. Wells (3) and J. Trotter (2). Total 18.

Kingham-Gillespie—Berry (2), Allan (4), Phillips (1), Barber (4), Dale (7), Turner (21), O'Connell, Anderson and Edge. Total 36.

Trade-Ats—Newman (6), Price (2), D. Gent (6), K. Gent (7), Featherstone, Reid and Smart (6). Total 29.

West Saanich Mercantiles—C. Sluggert (2), Mielog (8), C. Sluggert (4), G. Lannon (12), K. Young (19), E. Butler (4), C. Sluggert (4). Total 53.

Tiliacums—Hill (10), Wood (2), Petticrew, Moore (8), Phillion (2), Bourne (3), Sutton (2) and Bradley (12). Total 39.

FRIDAY GAMES
Three fixtures will be played on Friday evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium as follows:

7:30—Trade-Ats vs. Lynn Patrick's Aces.

8:30—Chinese Students vs. Kingham-Gillespie.

9:30—Tiliacums vs. Lake Hill.

SCORES KNOCKOUT
New York, Jan. 22.—Lou Ambers, speedy Herkimer, N.Y., lightweight, continued his bid for a title bout with champion Tony Canzoneri by scoring a technical knockout over Tony Herrera, Chicago, in the ninth round of their scheduled ten-round bout at the Broadway Arena yesterday evening. Ambers weighed 135½ and Herrera 137½.

Defeat Pacific and V.A.S.C. Performers in Regular League Meet at Crystal Garden; Polo Game Ends in Draw

Smart junior performers in the girls' section and one or two good senior men carried the Y.M.C.A. swimmers, skipped jointly by Madge Carter and Bob Smil, to a surprise victory over the Pacific and Victoria Amateur Swimming Clubs in yesterday evening's Vancouver Island Swimming League meet at the Crystal Garden.

The association team finished the event with a total of forty-six points against the Pacific Club's thirty-eight. V.A.S.C. was third with twenty-one. The two latter squads were below full strength, the Pacific team being without Bob Mathewson, middle-distance star.

The Winged Y team took six first places and kept adding up points on second and third finishers to keep ahead of the rest of the field.

GOOD VICTORIES
Ivor Fuller, with a victory in the 100 yards freestyle, Gordie Lawrence, with a win in the 400 yards, and the association's men's relay team contributed largely towards the Y triumph. The junior girls also showed up particularly well.

In a polo game following the races the Pacific-Y.M.C.A. combined forces beat the hardworking V.A.S.C. team to a 2 to 2 draw.

RESULTS

Y Runners Invited To Big Indoor Meet In New Westminster

Strong Squad To Carry Colors In Track Features

Training Grind to Start Tuesday Evening; Event Scheduled March 21 and 22

Fresh from their victory over the University of British Columbia track stars, Archie McKinnon's Flying Y boys to-day faced a stiff training schedule for the big indoor New Westminster meet two months hence. Tentative dates for the event are Friday and Saturday, March 20 and 21.

The Victorians have received a call from Vic E. Andrew, secretary of the meet, to defend their mile relay honors in the feature of the coming meet.

Last year the local squad took the measure of the College of Puget Sound by a little over a foot in the contest and hope to repeat in the coming race.

In addition, provided plans are carried through, the Victorians will enter in several other races. McKinnon also plans to send Bill Dale, Joe Addison, Paul Rowe, Chuck Cunningham, Owen Bentley and Alec Gaunt over for the events.

INVIATION ISSUED
"Get your boys in shape for Friday or Saturday, March 20 and 21," Andrew wrote to McKinnon. "These dates are tentative but will probably hold."

"U.B.C. are in already and College of Puget Sound have also agreed through Dan McKenzie."

"We will be sending you the programme early in February, when our next meeting is held. But in the meantime we would like a line from you indicating that the Victoria Y is prepared to defend the trophy won here last year," the letter concluded. McKinnon expects his boys to take the 600 metres and the 1,000 metres on places in some of the other events. For the mile relay, in which he expects to repeat last year's triumph, he will probably use Addison, Dale, Gaunt and either Rowe or Bentley. In preparation for the meet the Y boys will open intensive training at the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening and will carry on with practice twice a week on that evening and Fridays at 8:15 o'clock.

BASKETBALL AT LUXTON

Two basketball games were played in Luxton Hall last Friday. Luxton Girls lost to Strawberry Vale with a score of 35 to 14. Luxton boys defeated Colwood boys by 37 to 26. Luxton Girls—E. Walker, 4, A. Heath, 1, I. Holt, 2, Hutchinson 3, M. McKay 2, S. Smith 3, J. Sterling 2. Strawberry Vale Girls—K. Miles 6, G. Stewart, 6, Cosh II, J. McDonald, E. Creed 6, V. Holt 2, T. Marchant, G. Jones 10. Luxton Boys—W. Rhoads 6, N. Rhoads 16, S. Poirier 9, S. Shields, 6, B. McMurchie 4, A. Nerrington 4. Colwood Boys—L. Clarke 2, A. Peatt 10, R. Piercy, F. Webb 5, A. Reid 4, D. Crawford 6, F. Scarle 1. B. Levy was referee. Dancing followed to music by Hal Price's orchestra.

THE BIG SIX

Assists they got yesterday evening brought Don Romnes, Chicago, and Red Beattie, Boston, into the National Hockey League's big event and expanded the charmed circle to include eleven players. Six of them are tied with eighteen points each for the last two places.

Paul Thompson's goal against New York Rangers brought the Chicagoan into tie with Charlie Conacher and Bill Thomas, Toronto, for third place, four points behind the leading Sweeney Schriner, New York Americans. Thompson now leads the American division in goals scored with eleven.

Standings follow:

G.	A. Pts.
Schriner, Americans	10 13
Welland, Boston	10 10
Conacher, Toronto	11 8
Thompson, Chicago	11 8
Thomas, Toronto	8 11
Dillon, Rangers	10 8
Aurle, Detroit	10 8
Chapman, Americans	8 10
Beattie, Boston	7 11
Boucher, Rangers	6 12
Romnes, Chicago	6 12

Cunningham Will Defend Mile Mark

New York, Jan. 22.—Definitely spiking reports that he planned no further competition during the indoor track season, Glenn Cunningham let it be known yesterday that he would defend his three-mile laurels in the Wanamaker mile of the annual Milrose meet, in Madison Square Garden, February 1.

Loughlin Denies Any Disagreement

New York, Jan. 22.—Clem Loughlin, manager of the National Hockey League Chicago Black Hawks, emphatically denied yesterday reports of a disagreement between himself and Howie Morenz, star centre.

"Morenz is only run down following an attack of influenza. Rumors I had repudiated Howie for indifferent playing are absolutely untrue."

"Morenz did not come east with me because I thought a rest would do him good."

BRITISH ICE TEAM CHOSEN

Five Canadians on Squad to Represent England at the Olympic Games

London, Jan. 22.—England's Olympic hockey team, fourteen strong and featuring five Canadians, will reach Garmisch-Partenkirchen twenty-four hours before the international ice series starts, and even officials of the British Hockey Association have scant hopes of success.

The Canadian members of the team are Jimmy Foster, goaltender, who played in Winnipeg and Moncton; Alex Archer, right wing, from Winnipeg; A. Stinchcombe, right wing, former Windsor, Ont., star, and Jimmy Chappell, from Whiteby, Ont.; and Harry Pyfincich, defenceman, Ottawa.

So important has British hockey become this winter to clubs and players alike that the country's Olympic team cannot be assembled until the last minute. League games have to be played and there has been no disposition in any quarter to relinquish players to the Olympic team for practice purposes.

NICKLIN IS COACH
So Coach P. Nicklin, whose Moncton Hawks won the Canadian senior championship in 1933 and 1934, will take a collection of stars to Germany. The team will have had little work as a unit. Opinion here is that it will place about sixth in the games. Here is the line-ups of sixteen selections, two of which will be dropped before the team leaves:

Goal — Jimmy Foster, Richmond Hawks, and "Scotty" Milne, Wembley Lions.

Defence — Carol Erhardt, Streatham; H. Pyfincich, Streatham; R. Wyman, Wembley Canadians; P. McPhail, Earls Court Rangers.

Centre — G. Parsons, Brighton Tigers; Jimmy Chappell, Earls Court Rangers; Gerry Davey, Streatham.

Right Wing—Alex Archer, Wembley Lions; A. Stinchcombe, Streatham; J. Borland, Brighton Tigers.

PEDEN-AUDY IN TIE FOR LEAD

Milwaukee, Jan. 22.—Four teams were tied in mileage with the Crossley-Walthour combination ahead on points, as Milwaukee's fifth international six-day bike race neared its close to-day. The race ends to-night.

Torchy Peden, Victoria, and Jules Audy, Montreal, were among the leaders.

The standings follow:

Miles	Laps	Pts.
Crossley-Walthour	2152	5 3300
Kilian-Vopel	2152	5 3290
Peden-Audy	2152	5 3225
Cohen-Rodman	2152	5 1455
Beckman-Zach	2152	4 1990
Baggio-Wissel	2152	4 1760
Bartell-Le Page	2152	3 1990

THISTLES PRACTICE

OAK BAY GOLF

Mrs. L. O. Howard and Mrs. H. A. Tomlinson topped their respective classes in the women's monthly competition held yesterday at the Victoria Golf Club. The former finished 5 down to win a class honors and the latter was 2 down to head B class.

NET FINALS ARE REACHED

Victoria Badminton Club Championships to Be Decided To-morrow Evening

George Lane, the Blesdale brothers, Harry and Des, Miss E. Saunders, Miss J. Waddell, Frank Tyrrell, Mrs. Foote, Miss Styan, Mrs. Goodwin, Miss Harris and Don Fish will hold the spotlight in to-morrow evening's finals of the Victoria Badminton Club tournament at the Willows.

Yesterday evening they fought their way through semi-finals to reach the last bracket in the club championship play.

Straight-set victories marked all but one of the singles duels. In the lone three-set match, H. Francis carried Harry Blesdale to the extra game before dropping the encounter, 15-11, 11-15, 15-7.

Favorites advanced against good opposition in the men's doubles, while in the mixed team play, results were much the same.

The complete list of yesterday evening's encounters, together with to-morrow evening's draw, follows:

Women's Singles
Miss Brewster won from Mrs. Goodwin, 4-11, 11-7, 11-7.

Ganda Singh To Show Saturday

Wrestling fans will no doubt welcome the news that Promoter Fred Richardson had signed Ganda Singh, giant East Indian heavy-weight wrestler, for the main event of Saturday's card at the Willoughby gym, Broad Street. Richardson is attempting to get Sam Leathers, Chicago, as an opponent for the Hindu. A good supporting card will also be arranged. The first bout will start at 8:45 o'clock.

NEW KING IS KEEN GOLFER

King Edward VIII Ranks Among the Most Enthusiastic Exponents of Game

By ALAN GOULD
Sports Editor
New York, Jan. 22.—The all-around sportsman who new rules Britain's vast domain as King Edward VIII, ranks among the most enthusiastic, if not also the best of all royal exponents of the royal and ancient game of golf.

His interests in sport cover a wide range, from horse racing and polo to boxing and tennis, but over the last decade his personal prowess has been most conspicuous on the links and his golfing associations have helped most to increase his international popularity.

He took most of his golfing lessons from such noted professionals as Ted Ray and Archie Compston. He also welcomed advice, in friendly matches, from Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones, with whom he played in 1930.

The Prince's recovery from a trap on the last hole, was a factor in enabling him and Jones to finish all-square with Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, then the United States amateur champion, and Sir Victor Sasson in their friendly foursome at Sunningdale six years ago.

In connection with that match, O. B. Keeler, famous golf writer and chronicler of Jones's deeds, told the Prince, "It was your good play and not Bobby's that squared that match."

"Do you really think so?" the Prince inquired.

"I'm absolutely sure of it," Keeler related, and explained: "You see I've been in Africa most of the last two years, and I don't have much chance to play."

In response to a remark that he seemed perfectly cool during the match, the Prince replied: "Cool, I was frozen. He's a wonderful partner, but almost too perfect."

Glasgow, Jan. 22.—In line with the decision of the English Football Association that the Scottish Association announced to-day that soccer fixtures will be played January 28, the date set for the funeral of King George V.

Other matches will be played as scheduled. Home clubs have been instructed to provide crepe armlets for players, referees and lineemen. All bands engaged will play the National Anthem and before the start of the game referees will signal for a period of silence.

Edmonton Eskimos Take Third Place

Defeat Vancouver Lions 3 to 1 in Overtime to Climb From Cellar in Northwest Hockey League; Lions and Portland Tied For Leadership

Edmonton, Jan. 22.—Edmonton Eskimos were in third place in the Northwest Hockey League to-day, just three points behind the fading Vancouver Lions and the Portland Buckaroos, by virtue of their 3 to 1 overtime victory over the Lions here yesterday evening.

The defeat, the second suffered by Vancouver in successive nights, left them tied at the top of the standing, with Portland, but Lions have played four games more than Buckaroos, and their position is extremely shaky.

Vancouver held an edge for most of the game yesterday evening, and Clint Smith's goal on Walt Creasy's pass enabled them to carry a lead into the third period.

After six minutes of play in the third session, however, Mory Rimstad gathered in a loose puck after Lorne Mercer had carried the rubber up the ice and the young Eskimo centre tied the score.

In the overtime, Rimstad counted the winning goal with Les Whittles assisting, and Louis Holmes made double certain of victory just before the overtime period closed.

From all over the globe come visitors to Vancouver Island—attracted by stories of its unique charm, its beautiful scenery, the perfection of its climate, and its outstanding residential advantages.

The Tourist Industry has rapidly developed into one of major importance. Evidence of its phenomenal growth is the fact that the number of tourists visiting the Island in 1935 was thirty per cent greater than the previous year.

The Vancouver Island Coach Lines, through its connections with other transportation companies on the continent has been instrumental in bringing its quota of visitors to these shores, while every effort has been made to induce local residents to spend their vacations on their own island.

The monthly meeting of the Frances Willard W.C.T.U. will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. T. Humphries, 2976 Quadra Street. Mrs. J. Hall will be the guest speaker.

William McFarlane, Irvin Haywood and Bruce Scobie, charged with assaulting Bernard Dalziel, were remanded until to-morrow morning, after appearing in the City Police Court this morning.

J. P. Forde, district engineer, federal department of public works, New Westminster, arrived in the city to-day from the mainland. He is registered at the Empress Hotel and is on departmental business.

Provided the residents meet $135 of the costs, the water board will recommend to the city council the construction of a water main on the south side of Wollaston Street and Macaulay Street, at a cost of $405.

Transfer of 102.21 acres at Stewart to be used for railway right of way was made by the provincial government to-day to the Canadian Northern Railway Company at a price of $5 an acre, plus $10 crown grant fee.

The annual congregational meeting of First United Church will be held at 8.30 o'clock this evening in the church. A social gathering will be held in the church hall after the meeting.

Action aiming towards the removal of East Indians living in houses in the Quadra Street-Hillside Avenue area is sought in a petition filed to-day by seventeen residents of the area for consideration of the City Council to-morrow evening.

Appointment of another seventy-one election commissioners in the riding of Vancouver-Burrard, where a by-election must be held within the next few months, was announced at the Legislative Buildings this morning. Four commissioners were also appointed for Chilliwack.

There will be no meeting this week of the Victoria Truck Drivers' Union as the committee will meet Industrial Relations Board, Thursday evening. In the deputy minister of labor's office, at 8 o'clock. The next meeting of the union will be held on February 13.

Charged with failing to provide life's necessities for his wife and child, James S. Scouler was permitted to go on the understanding he would undertake his responsibility to the best of his ability, when he appeared for judgment before Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court this morning.

The young people of the Douglas Street Baptist Church will lead the weekly meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. The meeting will be open to the public. The young men's band and the singing company of the citadel will be in attendance.

Registration of all bicycles in the city, to assist the police in checking thefts and losses, is expected to come up for consideration at the next city council meeting. Provided the suggestion is adopted, registration will probably cover three-year terms and a charge of twenty-five cents will be made for the service. Registration has been recommended to the city by Police Chief Heatley.

Twelve tables of progressive five hundred were in play yesterday evening at the weekly card party of the Victoria West Liberal Club in their clubrooms, 414 Skinner Street. The relief committee will recommend to the city council to-morrow evening that the deductions made in relief allowances when a dependent is earning money be reduced. At present when the member of a relief family secures employment, relief is reduced 50 per cent. Under terms of the recommendation the deduction would be reduced to 50 per cent. Authority will be sought by the committee to deal with relief cases of an emergent nature entailing expenses above $50.

A handsome dessert service has been offered by Miss Caroline Macklem as a contribution to the fund for suffering Assyrians. The Assyrian people are reported to be in danger of extinction and the British and Free governments are undertaking the League of Nations are undertaking to move them to a place in Syria. In the meantime their numbers will be greatly reduced if they are not helped.

The dessert service, which is offered for sale for the fund is on view at the office of the Empire Realty Co., 1008 Broad Street.

The Victoria and District British-Israel Association paid heartfelt tribute to the memory of the late King at its meeting yesterday evening. E. W. Abraham, the local president, referred to his great qualities of sympathy for others, and W. H. Blackler, Dominion president, offered prayer, after which the National Anthem was sung. E. Ashley Cooper, who has just returned from a tour of Alberta and British Columbia, was the guest speaker. He drew a vivid contrast between the present worldwide distress and the happiness which would prevail when the laws of God were put into effect. "Christianity has not been tried," he maintained, and urged that the way to bring about the change was by individual and national repentance, and asking God to establish His kingdom on earth.

Proclamation Is Heard Here

Victorians Awake Early This Morning Followed London Procession; to Be Repeated

Victorians who awoke this morning at 2 o'clock and turned on their radios heard in clear detail the ancient ceremony in London of the reading of the order-in-council proclaiming the former Prince of Wales as King Edward VIII.

The ceremony started at St. James's Palace in Westminster, and it took nearly an hour for the procession to reach the steps of the Royal Exchange in the heart of the City of London.

The proclamation ceremonies will be rebroadcast over the network of the Canadian Radio Commission, including CROV, Vancouver, this evening from 6 to 7 o'clock, P.S.T., it was announced this morning.

The rebroadcast will be from a blatherphone recording. A tremendous amount of interest in the ceremonies was created by the original broadcast this morning.

The programme came through remarkably clear and it was possible to hear the clatter of the horses' hoofs on the cobbled pavements, the shouts of the captains of the various guards and the booming of the cannon in St. James's Park.

Forty-on guns were fired by the Royal Horse Artillery. The silver bugles, draped in black, were heard playing the fanfares prior to the reading of the proclamation, and the bands played "God Save the King."

Leaving St. James's Palace the procession, headed by several state carriages bearing the officials, moved off past Marlborough House, up the Mall and through the Admiralty Arch to Trafalgar Square and Charing Cross, where the Royal proclamation was read for the second time.

Reaching Temple Bar, in the Strand, the procession was stopped to obtain the permission of the Lord Mayor to enter the city. This being given, the party moved to Chancery Lane, where again the proclamation was read. The fourth reading was given on the steps of the Royal Exchange.

Words of the officials came through clearly and distinctly. Occasionally the roar of traffic in Trafalgar Square could be heard. The pavements and buildings were crowded with spectators, Howard Marshall, the commentator said.

The silvery chiming of the church of St. Clement's, Dutton in the Strand were distinctly heard ringing the half hour at 2.30 a.m. (10.30 a.m. London time). They were also heard chiming fifteen minutes later.

Will Discuss School Budget

The Victoria School Board, scheduled to meet to-night for consideration of 1936 estimates, will require approximately $124,000 from the taxpayers if it adheres to expenditure and policies of 1935, it was learned to-day.

Gross expenditures for 1935, computed by the secretary to-day as a guide for 1936 budgeting, amounted to approximately $557,000.

Of that the provincial government's grants, based largely on teachers' salaries, amounted to $74,776, and other items, including fees, raised total credits to $103,217.48.

Bills which have not yet been paid raise the resulting net expenditures to approximately $454,000. By foregoing the installment and other sinking fund charges on the school debt, the city avoided paying approximately $20,000 in 1935, and will probably pursue a similar policy in drafting the budget this year.

Just what the actual installment this year will be was not ascertained to-day, but if it approximates $30,000 the board will probably draft its budget to allow for current expenditures other than debt charges, amounting to approximately $424,000.

That amount will be largely composed of teachers' salaries, supplies and other necessities.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS

P. E. George, chairman of the Building and grounds committee, to-day announced his committee, upon the request of the board chairman, had held its estimated expenditures for 1936 down to $21,000, the figure finally set for that section last year. It was understood, however, that amount did not include salaries.

When the budget was drafted last year the building and grounds committee estimated expenditures at $24,000, but reduced that amount to the city's request to $21,000 to help meet the increased expense of higher salaries for teachers.

CONTROVERSY ON CITY FLAG

The City Hall flag flew at the mast-head to-day in spite of innumerable telephone protests.

The City Hall officials were acting on instructions from the Parliament Buildings to the effect that the flag should be run all the way up on the day of the proclamation of the new King. Many citizens did not think this was right.

Further worries were added to the city officials when they made arrangements to drape King George's picture with crepe and found the picture was missing.

Obituary

ANNIE F. DOUGAN
Funeral of Mrs. Annie F. Dougan, native daughter of Nanaimo, who passed away in Duncan Hospital on Sunday, will take place this afternoon, interment being in the family burial ground at Cedar Hill.

Dougan was sixty-three years of age. She was the first white child born in Nanaimo after the arrival of the Princess Royal, which brought the first coal miners to Nanaimo from England. Mrs. Dougan, who, prior to her marriage, lived in Nanaimo, is survived by her husband, J. L. Dougan, Cobble Hill; a sister, Mrs. M. Wilson, San Francisco; a brother, Joseph Muir, Vancouver; a step-brother, George Brown, Vancouver, and her step-father, Joseph Brown, Vancouver.

WILLIAM JOSEPH WALKER
The funeral of William Joseph Walker, who passed away on Monday at the Jubilee Hospital, will be held to-morrow afternoon, the cortege leaving Sands Mortuary Chapel at 2.15 o'clock and proceeding to St. Stephen's Church, Saanich, where services will be conducted at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. S. A. Bastin. The remains will be laid at rest in the church cemetery.

JENNIE CASE MUNN
Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Case Munn of 1112 Mason Street will take place on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Sands Mortuary Chapel, under the auspices of co-lax Rebekah Lodge No. 1, I.O.G.F. Canon H. W. G. Stockton will officiate and the remains will be laid at rest in the family plot, Ross Bay Cemetery.

DAVID E. SMITH
David Edward Smith, fifty-seven, passed away yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 223 Victoria Road, Nanaimo. A native of Scotland, he had been a resident of Nanaimo for twenty-eight years.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. W. Whittingham, Victoria; three brothers, Robert, of Alberni; James, of Vancouver, and John, in eastern Canada; four sisters, Mrs. G. T. Hepburn, Victoria; Mrs. John McEellan, Nanaimo; Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Vancouver, and Mrs. John Fee, Nanaimo.

ROBERT GRIFFITHS
Funeral services for Robert Griffiths of 2941 Earl Grey Street, who passed away yesterday at the Jubilee Hospital, will be held to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Sands Mortuary Chapel. Rev. T. H. McAllister will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

SAM FOOK
Rev. Clarence Lee conducted the funeral services this afternoon at 1.45 o'clock for Sam Fook of 1617 Bore Street who passed away Sunday at the Jubilee Hospital, aged seventy-four. Born in China, he came to Victoria fifty years ago and for many years was a contractor in the cannery business and for ten years was a merchant tailor. For several years he was connected with the supplying of whaling stations. He was a valued member of the Chinese Free Masons.

There was a large attendance of mourners and friends, and the Canadian Legion band escorted the remains to the Chinese cemetery.

LAST RITES SET FOR TO-MORROW

The late Major John Peter Riddell, former school trustee and retired superintendent of school grounds and buildings, who passed away yesterday, Funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the Thomson Funeral Home, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiating. The remains will be cremated.

Twelve-year-old Warren George, son of School Trustee P. E. George, suffered an injury to his left eye when he was thrown from a motorcycle yesterday, according to a city police report. He was a passenger with Percy Wright, 3660 Highway Street, and was thrown off on Quadra Street when Wright swerved to avoid a dog and his machine struck a rock. The boy was taken to Jubilee Hospital.

FLORAL GIFT FROM PROVINCE

British Columbia will send a floral tribute to the late King George. It was announced at the Legislative Buildings to-day. A wreath from the Premier and members of the cabinet will be sent for the funeral through the Acting Agent-General in London. Arrangements were made to-day to drape the Legislative Buildings in black on the day of the funeral and also to cover King George's portrait in the Assembly chamber.

The formal proclamation declaring to-morrow a public holiday was drawn up this afternoon. It provides that the usual weekly holiday on Wednesday will be waived.

H. L. FENSHAM HEADS GROUP

Is Reappointed President of Dickens Fellowship For Second Year

H. L. Fensham was re-elected president of the Victoria Dickens Fellowship for his second term at the annual meeting in the Women's Institute Rooms, Fort Street, on Monday evening.

Other officers elected were: First vice-president, C. C. Pemberton; second vice-president, A. W. Arnup; honorary vice-presidents, Mayor David Leeming and Dean Quinlan; secretary, Mrs. J. B. Kennedy; and treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy White.

The executive was named as follows: Miss C. G. Fox; Mrs. M. M. Beasley, G. H. Henderson, H. Cressy and H. Woods.

A favorable financial position was shown in the report submitted by Mrs. M. L. Gray, retiring treasurer. A vote of thanks to Mrs. Gray for fourteen years of untiring service was passed by the meeting.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. Kennedy, showed an active year, with seven well attended meetings, an annual picnic at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Spanglochem, in June and a Christmas dinner party. The report also pointed to an increase in membership.

The meeting was adjourned immediately following completion of business, and members stood in silent tribute to the memory of King George V.

Year Reviewed At Cathedral

Favorable Reports Are Heard at Annual Meeting in Memorial Hall

A year of progress was closed by Christ Church Cathedral yesterday afternoon and a new year was entered with confidence. Dean Quinlan presided at the annual meeting in the chapel of the Memorial Hall.

The wardens' report and statement of accounts was favorable, all liabilities having been met during the year, and the customary apportionments and assessments duly paid, in addition to a special gift of $750 from the Cathedral and St. Matthias Church in aid of distressed clergy in the diocese of Saskatchewan.

Payments, with Miss Margaret McKay at the organ, sang the traditional Gregorian requiem mass.

Students of St. Ann's academy and of St. Louis College, with representatives of the staff of each, were in attendance. Nurses from St. Joseph's Hospital Training School, in uniform, were in the congregation.

Trees in Bloom And Chicks Out

Indications of Early Spring on Vancouver Island Seen To-day

Indications of an early spring on Vancouver Island are seen in Japanese plum trees in blossom and chicks pecking their way out of the shells.

A vase full of Japanese plum blossoms picked off a tree in Keating adorns the desk of Mrs. I. Mowat in her office on Broughton Street, while Mrs. T. B. Lang of 189 Regina Street has a batch of chicks hatching to-day.

"These chicks are early," Mrs. Lang said, "but we've had earlier. Last year we had a hen who brought out half a dozen chicks on Christmas Day."

The hen whose chicks are coming out to-day went broody on New Year's Day.

REQUIEM MASS IS HELD HERE

At St. Andrew's Cathedral this morning a large congregation attended solemn requiem high mass for King George.

Presiding in the sanctuary was Bishop J. H. MacDonald. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Father Gaudette, with Rev. Father Wood as deacon and Rev. Father C. F. Albury sub-deacon.

The choir, under the direction of A. Cowden, with Miss Margaret McKay at the organ, sang the traditional Gregorian requiem mass.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PRIVATE BILL
NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia at its next session by The Corporation of the City of Victoria for an Act (to be known as the "Victoria City Act, 1936") providing for the following: (a) the incorporation of the City of Victoria and the Municipal Council thereof; (b) the powers, namely:

1. Authorizing the Council to borrow temporarily without the assent of the electors a sum or sums of money not exceeding two hundred and thirty-seven thousand six hundred and thirty-seven dollars and thirty-two cents ($237,637.32) for the purpose of redeeming at maturity any debentures of the Corporation due and payable during the year 1936 pending the sale of debentures first mentioned in the next succeeding paragraph herein, said borrowing to include any sums which may have been borrowed for said purpose prior to the passing of said Act, and providing for the form of obligation and security to be given to the lender.

2. Authorizing the Corporation by-law to borrow upon debentures without the assent of the electors a sum or sums of money not exceeding two hundred and thirty-seven thousand six hundred and thirty-seven dollars and thirty-two cents ($237,637.32) and to apply the proceeds thereof toward the redemption of serial debentures of the Corporation falling due in 1936, or toward the discharge and repayment of temporary loans used for redemption of said serial debentures or any of them or for the repayment of any such temporary loan or loans.

3. Amending Section 19 of the Victoria City Act, 1921, as amended, to provide that lands referred to in subsection (a) of said Section shall be acquired by the Corporation by purchase or by expropriation proceedings shall be deemed to be lands that have become the property of the Corporation under the Sale Proceedings Act and may be disposed of as Tax Sale lands.

DATED at Victoria, B.C., the 14th day of January, 1936.
H. S. PRINGLE, Solicitor for the Corporation of the City of Victoria.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia at its next session, by David Leeming, Francis Edward Winslow, Ernest W. McKinnon, J. O. O'Brien and R. H. B. Ker, all of the City of Victoria, in the said Province, for an Act to incorporate the Victoria Foundation, and to provide for the powers, namely, to accept and carry into effect trusts for charitable purposes; to receive, devise, bequest or donations of and hold, control and administer property of every kind and description, whether real or personal and wherever situated; if not in contravention of the provisions of any trust, devise, bequest or donation under which it is received, convert any property at any time held by the Corporation into any other form, and for such purpose sell, lease, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of the same; lease any lands at any time held by the Corporation; pass on and entrust to one or more Trust Companies the possession or custody and the management of all or any portion of the real property at any time or from time to time received or held by the Corporation in the manner and in such portions as the Advisory Board may deem proper and to enter into agreements with such Trust Companies with regard thereto; pay out of the funds of the Corporation, taxes, insurance premiums, cost of repairs and outgoings in respect of any property devised, bequeathed or donated to the Corporation; and to do all such other things of the Corporation in relation to use and distribute available moneys for such charitable purposes as will best promote or help the mental, moral or physical improvement of residents of the City of Victoria and of an area within a radius of twenty-eight (28) miles of the City of Victoria; and other powers incidental to the foregoing objects.

DATED at Victoria, B.C., the 11th day of January, 1936.
LAWSON & DAVIS, Solicitors to the Applicants.

F. A. RUSSELL, Secretary.

MR. ESLEICK'S RECORD
others I have met with alliance; the Acting-Premier's words cannot be so ignored.

I know the Hon. Minister spoke without animus and in all sincerity, having no political affiliations. I have no political affiliations. I have full appreciation of the encouragement and assistance received from the Hon. T. D. Pattullo and his ministers in 1933.

I quote from the Premier's speech at 820, a Highland games, August 21: "I take great pleasure in extending felicitations to the Tourist Trade Association. The Five Year Plan will be of great benefit to Victoria and Vancouver Island."

To prevent further misunderstanding and to avoid any further misunderstanding, it becomes necessary for me to lay before the Hon. Minister the following personal facts.

I write as a citizen of the Empire and a Canadian resident. My record of services in the Empire's wars and peace-time is at his disposal.

My father was a Cornish miner. I was born in Aberdare and brought up in Liverpool, England.

Of my fifty-eight years, less than seven have been spent in the United States, and I have never relinquished my British citizenship. Here are the facts:

School-College, England, 1877-1900; Great Britain and Europe, 1901-09; India, 1910-11; Australia, 1912-22; United States, 1923-24; London, England, 1925-27; United States, 1928-30; Canada, 1930-32; United States, 1933; Canada, 1934-35.

I came to Victoria to fish-liked it—and still do. I didn't seek this job. I hold it—ought me.

Although my past earnings were much greater I promised Mayor Leeming I would work for one year at $20 a week, if it was not called a salary.

Last August I refused $750 a month from San Francisco in order to keep my word.

My year ended last month and I put in my resignation, was asked to carry on until the time to consider my position, that's where I stand to-day.

I want to go on with our Five Year Plan, have faith in our island's future and deep gratitude to those fine public-spirited men who work with me for the kindly way I have been treated.

This question of nationality is in my opinion secondary—efficiency comes first. Either I did a good job in 1935 or I didn't; there should be no other basis for criticism.

I assure the Hon. Minister that if anyone having the advantage of Canadian birth, which was denied to me, feels he can do better than I have done with the money made available last year, to put on the Show Boat, the piper's welcome at pier, the Winter Fair, the weekly seawater programme, the Highland games, and the achievement of up-land good-will and co-operation, I would like him to lay his plans before Mayor Leeming, secure in the knowledge that my resignation is available.

I feel assured that Mr. Wells Gray would not have spoken of me as he did if he had been in possession of the facts herein set out and I am confident that he will be prepared to

NEW ENGINE SETS
Light Weight Record
The lightest airplane ever made has just been completed in England, having a weight of only one pound per horse-power.

It is a Bristol "Pegasus" and has now completed its 100 hours' official flying test.

The famous Gnome rotary engine which took the flying world by storm in 1910 to 1914 had a weight of about two and a half pounds per horse-power, and even the Supermarine seaplane which won the Schneider trophy for Britain in 1931 had a ratio of nearly two pounds to every horse-power developed.

The new machine yields over 100 horse-power for each cylinder, or a total of 920 horse-power. It will be at the disposal of aircraft constructors in the autumn and will be in full production next year.

When they are fitted to airplanes they should improve the loads able to be carried and keep up a steady faster speed.

"Flying Fleas" Easy To Buy And Fly
THE "FLYING FLEA" is at last shortly to be with us in England. This type of craft was originally designed by a Frenchman, who, on account of its size, christened it "Le Pou du Ciel"—the Flea of the Sky.

It has a very small motor, is very cheap to build—and can even be home-made—and can be flown, it is claimed, by a novice after only a few minutes instruction.

The first British "Flying Flea" is being built by a firm of cabinet makers in Felling, near Newcastle, and will probably be ready to fly within a month.

Complete with engine it is expected to cost not more than $100. It will have a speed range of from twenty-five to sixty-two miles an hour, and will cost only a penny a mile to fly. Its horse power will be seventeen.

The machine incorporates a system of direct control, which eliminates elevators such as are used in a normal airplane. Control is obtained by movement of the whole top wing and the rudder.

Waffles—"I hear you rode on the cowcatcher of a locomotive once. I bet you were scared."
Sorghum—"You bet. I didn't know what minute I was going to be hit by an auto."

Stranger—"So little Willie, who used to make mud pies all the time, turned out to be a sculptor?"
Pa Sikes—"Yes, blame it: I thought it was a sign he'd be a baker."

Mr. And Mrs.

WHAT TIME IS IT, JOE, BY THAT NEW CLOCK?

WAIT A SECOND, I'LL LOOK

IT'S JUST FOUR NAILS PAST NAIL

WHAT ARE YOU TALKING ABOUT? CAN'T YOU ANSWER A SIMPLE QUESTION?

I'M JUST TELLING YOU WHAT THE CLOCK SAYS

WHY COULDN'T YOU SAY IT'S TWENTY PAST NINE? CAN'T YOU READ A CLOCK YET?

SURE! BUT I LIKE TO HAVE CLOCKS WITH NUMERALS ON 'EM, AND NOT A RING OF SHINY NAILS, ALL ALIKE

Bringing Up Father

SHUCKS - IT IS MONDAY AGAIN -

RAINING -

THAT'S ALL I WANTED TO KNOW -

Boots And Her Buddies

WHAT'S THE RUSH?

COME ON! I HAVE A PLANE ALL READY

I WANT TO GO AWAY SOME PLACE - WHERE WE CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF BEING ALONE

OK! PERSONALLY, I THINK IT'S A SWELL IDEA - GOING FOR THE RIDE, I MEAN

SEE, MR. X - IT ISN'T ANY OF MY BUSINESS, BUT I CAN SEE YOU'RE AWFULLY WORRIED ABOUT SOMETHING - IF YOU'D ONLY TELL ME ABOUT IT - WON'T YOU LET ME HELP YOU?

SURE! PARK MY WHISKERS SOME PLACE! THEY TICKLE

IT'S SO WONDERFUL UP HERE - ALL BY OURSELVES! I DON'T WANT TO SPOIL IT ALL BY EVEN THINKING ABOUT ANYTHING BUT YOU, BOOTS

Alley Oop

HURRY, TUNK - THAT CRITTER IS RIGHT BEHIND US!

WE CAN'T KEEP THIS UP - WE GOTTA CLIMB A TREE, SOMEWHERE...

HOW TH' HECK CAN WE CLIMB A TREE IN THIS THING?

NEV MIND HOW - HERE'S A TREE - AN UP WE GO!

THIS IS TH' CRAZIEST THING I EVER HEARD OF!

IT'LL BE TH' LAST THING YOU'LL EVER HEAR OF, IF I DON'T HURRY -

Ella Cinders

YOU MEAN YOU COLLECTED MONEY FROM THE PRISONERS TO PAY MRS. CINDERS FINE JUST TO GET HER OUT OF YOUR CELL?

WELL, DIP ME IN CHOCOLATE!

YES, YOUR HONOR!

WHY DID YOU SAY THAT?

I DUNNO EXCEPT IT'S THE FIRST TIME I EVER HEARD OF JAIL-BIRDS BEIN' FUSSY!

THIS IS A COURTROOM! ORDINARILY THE COURT WOULD BE FORCED TO IMPOSE A FINE FOR ANY UNSEEMLY COMMENTS!

BUT UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, THE COURT CANNOT JUSTLY IMPOSE A FINE WHEN HE, TOO, WAS THINKING SOMEWHAT OF BEING SALTED DOWN FOR A MACKEREL!

Tarzan The Untamed

"One night in Rome, after a particularly successful performance, an incident occurred destined to alter once more my adventurous career. For some time I had been aware that I was being closely watched; for what reason I did not know. As I entered my limousine, a sealed and crested envelope was handed me."

"Reading its contents and impelled by curiosity, though I was very weary, I had my chauffeur drive to a certain secluded villa. Evidently I was expected, for in a luxurious room a man awaited me. I recognized him as Prince Alexis Olinch, whom I had met in Moscow. Recently, whenever I danced in the ballet, I had observed his piercing eyes following my every movement."

"Speaking in Russian, which my French maid did not understand, he unfolded his scheme. I listened, amazed by his breath-taking words. . . . In the weeks following this midnight meeting, I came to know Prince Alexis well. Brilliant and charming, we had much in common, until I discovered his REAL self."

"For underneath the prince's suave exterior (I later learned his title was assumed) hid an altogether different person in whose heart flamed but one consuming purpose. He was the most valued secret agent of the Reds. For that cause he tried to win my needed aid. Then, before it happened, I knew that war, in its latest horror, was imminent. I decided upon a mad, dangerous and thrilling game."

BEGGING YOUR PARDON, MADAM - I WOULD LIKE TO MAKE A SUGGESTION -

WELL-WHAT IS IT?

YOUR COMPLIMENT OF SERVANTS IS NOT QUITE COMPLETE - THE BEST FAMILIES HERE AND ABROAD EMPLOY THE SERVICES OF A PAGE BOY

A PAGE BOY? - ER - OH YES, OF COURSE

IF YOU WILL PERMIT ME, MADAM - I HAVE A PAGE BOY IN MIND - I'M SURE HE WILL BE EMINENTLY SATISFACTORY

VERY WELL, WALDORF

HELLO, BILLINGS? REPORT TO WORK TOMORROW -

Don't Alibi Your Faults

Says It's Up to You To Become Popular

WE ALL LIKE TO ALIBI our shortcomings and blame others for our misfortunes, but if we were honest with ourselves we would realize that the fault is, once, dear Dorothy, and that we are responsible for the way people treat us.

I know a woman, for instance, who is always complaining because she is not popular. She wonders why she has only acquaintances while other women have intimate friends. She can't understand why she is only invited to big affairs, never to little ones; why she is left out of dinner parties; why no one ever catches over her while they are crazy over that little Mrs. Smith, who isn't half as good-looking or well dressed or intelligent as she is.

But anybody could tell her that the reason she isn't popular is because she is a cow in the social china shop. She has a genius for saying the wrong things and generally stroking everybody's fur the wrong way. If anyone has a sore toe, she is bound to tread on it, and so everybody prudently keeps out of her way.

Also, she is argumentative, and nobody's idea of a pleasant evening is spending it in combating the views of an opinionated woman. Furthermore, she spoils every dinner party to which she is asked by monopolizing the conversation and never giving anyone else a chance to get a word in edgewise. Hence she is left out.

Then there is the woman who wails and beats upon her breast, and cries out that since she has lost her money all of her old friends have dropped her. When she could give fine parties, people flock around her, but now that she can no longer afford to entertain she is left alone, and this is a hard and selfish world.

The real reason her friends have dropped her is not because she has lost her money, but because she has become a bitter, whining, complaining bore. She is nothing but an incarnate tale of woe, with no topic of conversation except her misfortunes. To spend an hour with her is just to be salted down in brine. As most of us have enough troubles of our own to furnish us all the depression we crave, we don't go out hunting up the Gloomy Gussies. We don't avoid old friends because they can no longer open champagne for us. We sidestep them because they open up their tar ducts.

Then there are the martyr wives who consider themselves the victims of some malign and inexplicable fate because their husbands are indifferent to them, or have strayed off after some other woman. They have been such good wives, they tell you. They have been so domestic. Such good cooks. So saving. They have never had a thought except for their homes and children, and men are ungrateful beasts not to appreciate all their wives do for them.

It never occurs to them that the reason husbands grow neglectful is because their wives cease to be interesting and charming; if they had fed their husbands on soft talk instead of pies they would still be eating out of their hands; or that the reason that most husbands leave home is to find some woman who will listen to them and give them the jollying they do not get from Friend Wife.

Every now and then I hear some woman railing at the selfishness of people who are better off than she is. Why doesn't Mrs. A., who has that pretty cottage in the country, lend it to her for the summer? Why doesn't Mrs. B., who rides alone in her big automobile, fill it up with the children who never have a chance to ride? Why doesn't Aunt Susan invite her to come and bring Johnny and Susie with her and make a nice long visit?

The answer is because when you lend your cottage to your friends and relatives you have to send for the painter and the paperhanger, the electrician and the cleaners to repair the damage they have done, and it costs you more than it would to have sent them to a hotel. Because, when you take innocent little children to ride in your car they divert themselves by wiping their feet on the seats, smearing the upholstery and breaking up all the gadgets they can lay their hands on. And when Aunt Susan asks tired nice and her brood of undisciplined youngsters to spend a month with her, it leaves Aunt Susan with nervous prostration herself.

All of us know old people who are forever talking about how lonely they are and complaining about nobody ever coming to see them or paying them any attention. We know parents who wall over their children's ingratitude in not wanting to have them live with them.

We could tell them why. They are lonely because they have never bound any human being to them with ties of kindness. Their children don't want them to live with them because they are crutchy and disagreeable and would ruin the happiness of any home they were taken into. We bring our misfortunes down on our own heads.

Uncle Wiggily and the Playhouse

By HOWARD E. GARIS

One day when Uncle Wiggily was hopping over the fields and through the woods back of his hollow stump bungalow he saw, in a place where the woods and the fields came together, four children. They were not animal children, but real ones. Like those of you who may be reading or listening to this little story. Because Uncle Wiggily wore a fur coat and a tall silk hat at times and red trousers and a red necktie he was different from other rabbits in the woods. Not many rabbits dress as did Uncle Wiggily, nor do they live in hollow stump bungalows, or have adventuring adventures. But Uncle Wiggily did and he twinkled his pink nose. So, being different from other rabbits, he received a great deal of attention. That is, wherever he went, especially if there were children, and they saw him they would laugh and shout and sometimes chase him, saying: "Look at the funny rabbit! He must be from a circus! Let's get him and put him in a cage!"

So, because he didn't want to be put in a cage, often when Uncle Wiggily saw real children as he was hopping around he kept out of their sight. That's the reason, so very few children have ever seen Uncle Wiggily. He sees them, but he doesn't let them see him.

"And I think I'd better keep hidden from these children," said Uncle Wiggily as he watched the four playing on the edge of the woods in the field. So he hid himself behind a stump.

From where he was, Mr. Longears could watch the children, see what they did and hear what they said.

"Come on, Shirley," a little boy said, "let's build a play house of sticks."

"I will if David will help," said Shirley.

"Of course I'll help," said David. "But I think Robert ought to get some sticks too."

"I will," promised David. "Are you going to make a play house with us, Shirley?"

"Of course," said Shirley. "It'll be lots of fun."

So, while Uncle Wiggily watched the four children, he saw them gather sticks and branches and boards from the woods and make them into a play house with a door and two little windows. The windows were very small, not much larger than ice cream cones, and the door was small, too. Speaking of ice cream cones reminds me to tell you that when it was snow on the ground in the woods and fields where the children were building their play house, that's one reason they wanted it.

"Then we get our play house built," said Shirley. "We can go inside and be nice and warm."

"And we can go in our real houses and bring out some things to eat and have a party in the play house," said David.

"Maybe we can build a fire," suggested Shirley.

"That's right," said Uncle Wiggily, who could hear all the children, very easily, though he couldn't speak their language. Children must never play with fire or matches. It is terrible to be burned. Laughing to himself and twinkling his pink nose behind the stump Uncle Wiggily watched the children build their play house. And soon it was almost finished and then something happened. "I'll tell you about it in the next story, which will be about Uncle Wiggily and the locked door. But please don't let the dog next door come over and bite the leg of the dining-room table."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel" THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1936

Benefic aspects rule to-day, according to astrology. It is a time most favorable to executive work and should stimulate government projects.

Business men have the best possible direction of affairs, but they should avoid speculative enterprises. Trade matters should increase greatly, but transactions should include little credit. While this configuration prevails, foresight in making investments is reliable. The stars advise slow but sure profits. Speculations will be widespread and chances for rule again in many human activities. Even love affairs may be more of a gambol now than usually.

Divorces, though they will be numerous this winter, will be less fashionable than formerly. A strong tide of divorce is apparent.

The death of a European ruler or former ruler is prognosticated. Surprising events are foretold for Germany where financial affairs may be in a chaotic state. Young men and young women come under a planetary government that promises much public responsibility, but they are warned against the perils into which egotism may lead them.

This is an auspicious day for weddings, love affairs and social contacts. Women are subject to planetary influences that are inspiring to home-keepers as well as writers and actresses.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year for them, but quarrels and small antagonisms should be avoided.

Children born on this day probably will be strongly intellectual and able to attain high scholarship. Subjects of this sign gain fame by a combination of talents and industry.

Benoit Constant Coquelin, French actor, was born on this day, 1841. Others who have celebrated it: Birthday King Sir Francis Burrett, British statesman, 1884, and Samuel H. Turner, Rebrast, 1790.

WATCHMAKER ON TRIAL AS FIEND

Canadian Press from Hava

Schwerin, Germany, Jan. 22.—"Uncle Tietze," the kindly itinerant watchmaker whose arrest as "the fiend of Mecklenburg," charged with having murdered twelve children in recent years created a sensation, was brought on trial here to-day. The hearing started yesterday.

In the course of recent years several children have mysteriously disappeared in Mecklenburg province. They were always found in a remote place far from home, dead, but bearing no trace of violence.

Police insisted on "Uncle Tietze" guilt, however, and established the fact that he had passed twenty-three of his last forty years in prison, ten of them for molesting children.
